Red Cross Prepares

Will Theoretically Kill And Injure Scores of People During Test Here

A disaster drill that will theoretically kill or injure scores of people, devastate at least a whole city block, and cause an emergency mobilization of members of various relief forces, will be staged in Newton this Saturday, it is announced by Maxwell P. Gaddis, Chairman of the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross.

The test, first of its kind in the Boston metropolitan area, is being held at the request of the Eastern Area Headquarters of Red Cross, which selected Newton as the scene of the drill. Its purpose is to demonstrate the ability of the community and its agencies to cope promptly and jointly with conditions that might be faced in a real catastrophe, and to learn by field test how effective previously planned measures will be.

Arrangements for the drill and critique, which will continue for some days, have been made by the Disaster Committee on the Newton Red Cross Chapter, headed by Riley J. Hampton.

"The practice mobilization will, of course, be theoretical in some respect," said Mr. Hampton. "However, the Red Cross, fire and police departments have made careful plans, based on their experience with actual disasters, to meet a specific situation, and will do so as realistically as possible under the circumstances. The simulated tragedy will be caused by an explosion of (Continued on Page 6)

Fast-Moving Programs To Be Featured

Recount Makes Little Change Here

No material change occurred in the recount results of the contest for the Republican nomination for representative in the Fifth Middlesex district. The recount, which began Thursday, was finished Friday afternoon and the revised totals showed the following results: Whitmore, 4879; Thresher, 2487; Baxter, 2275; Waters, 1138; Ring, 713, and Murray, 242.

In the recount, Mrs. Thresher gained 35 votes and William J. Baxter, who sought the recount, gained 22 votes, while Rep. Howard Whitmore, who led the race, lost six votes and Mrs. Azerle P. Murray's total was unchanged. Miss Alice M. Waters gained 15 votes and Mrs. Helen L. Ring lost four votes.

Mrs. Ragna Hovgaard, Program Chairman of Newton's city-wide Halloween celebration, states that reports from Building Chairmen indicate emphasis on fast-moving, diversified programs for their parties.

"Early reports," said Mrs. Hovgaard, show that this year programs are more than ever before going to be on a something-doing-every-minute basis. Every committee is cudgeling its collective brains to make its own party the best and liveliest in town, and some groups have already come up with ideas that their boys and girls will vote as out of this world. Of course, the committees are keeping their special stunts strictly sub rosa. But they do promise enough surprises and rollicking activities to satisfy the most ravenous young appetite for thrills and laughs. The following general and (Continued on Page 6)

If You Own Property Jointly with Another

Where husband and wife or any two or more persons hold property in certain forms of joint ownership, they get the benefit of attractive legal and practical advantages.

Yet, taxwise, joint ownership may be costly. The death of one joint owner may force the survivor to pay heavy estate tax assessments or capital gains taxes. The creation of joint ownership sometimes involves a Federal gift tax.

If you have entered into joint ownership without finding out what tax liabilities might result, check with your lawyer now. Joint ownership may be advantageous for you, on the other hand it may be costly. Your lawyer can tell you.

Many Parents Attend First Meeting of Centre School Ass'n

Parents of the children of the Mason-Rice Schools are definitely interested in the education of their children as evidenced by the large gathering of more than three hundred and fifty parents who attended the first open meeting of the Newton Centre School Association held last Thursday at the Mason School Auditorium.

Interesting slides which were taken in the classrooms were shown. The subject of the slides was the procedure of learning to read in each grade. Special emphasis was stressed on the kindergarten, first and second grades, showing how much attention is given to the child in order to fix definite words in the child's mind and prepare him for more advanced reading in the upper grades. Mr. William L. Winston, Coordinator for Audio-Visual Education, made the slides. Mason-Rice Schools are the first in the Newtons to make a survey of this kind.

Mrs. Sylvester McGinn, President of the Newton Centre School Association, opened the meeting followed by a short talk by Miss Ruth Dority, Principal, explaining the program to follow. Parents were pleased to learn that a tape recording bought by the Newton Centre School Association for the Mason-Rice Schools is being used in the reading classes. This recorder enables students to hear the recordings and correct their mistakes in reading. This machine will be used to record plays and class room work for future reference. Radio programs which cannot be heard by the children because of the late hour can be recorded for use at any time of the school day.

Birthday -

there belonged to Harvard College.

The value of the water power of the Falls was early recognized; the first mill was built in 1701; iron works, saw and grist mills, silk, cloth, hosiery, leather, snuff, chocolate and calico-printing mills sprang up. At one time there were 8 or 10 paper mills, some of which operated for over 100 years.

The first post-office in Newton, built in 1813, and for long the only one in the town, still stands on Washington street, a short distance east of its original location, which is marked by a bronze tablet given by Lucy Jackson Chapter, D.A.R. Nearby, another tablet marks the place where General Washington crossed the Charles River on his way to Boston. Lower Falls had the first fire engine in Newton, a hand tub drawn by ropes manned by volunteer firemen.

Many interesting old houses, and one of the stone mills, still cluster near Lower Falls square. The Baury House, built in 1750 by John Parker for his son Ezra, who was married that year, was originally 1 1/2 stories high. Ezra Parker later sold the property to William Hoogs, who built a paper mill, started a leather tannery, and in 1800 built the lower dam at the Falls; he had 14 children; three of his daughters were married the same night.

After passing through other hands, Samuel Brown, a wealthy merchant of Boston, took the house in 1813 in payment of a debt. He remodeled it to its present size and gave it to his old friend, Rev. Mr. Baury, rector of St. Mary's Church from 1822 to 1851, for use as a parsonage, as it adjoined the church property for which Mr. Brown had previously given the land.

"Parson Baury," with his family, lived here for many years; his six children grew up and scattered and the house again passed into other hands until in 1917 it was bought by Lucy Jackson Chapter, D.A.R. They renovated and remodeled it in 1929, carefully preserving the original glass, hardware and woodwork. The old beehive oven may still be seen, also the later great fireplace and brick oven. There is an interesting collection of household utensils and of old costumes. The Baury family contributed paintings, miniatures and furniture long in use in the house, and other gifts of heirlooms and antiques have made the house a veritable museum. It is maintained by the Chapter as a contribution of the Colonial past to the present and future. Houses such as this one are the source of New England's distinctive architecture and many of its best features have been copied in modern Colonial houses.

Lucy Jackson Chapter will celebrate the birthday of its House Thursday, October 12 with a Guest Day to which city officials and many friends of its members have been invited.

Mrs. Gustav A. Hagen, Regent; Mrs. Joseph E. Wozan, chairman of invitations; Mrs. Walter E. Holden, reception chairman; Mrs. J. Walter Allen, historical chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. Frederick J. Warren, Mrs. Frank S. Larkin, Mrs. Benjamin G. Rae; Mrs. James G. Patterson, Mrs. Harold A. Carnes, Mrs. John P. Holmes, Mrs. Edward B. Parker and Mrs. Henry A. Perry.

Add New Courses In Drama Dept.

The Boston Conservatory Drama Department under the direction of Harlan Grant will offer two new divisions of theatre and radio study during the fall and winter. The new evening school division starting Tuesday evening, October 10, will offer courses in speech, theatre and radio for business and professional people. Speech classes will explore the individual's problems in speech in relation to personality development. Public speaking as an adjunct to business and social life will be included. Theatre and radio classes will treat these related fields from an avocational and recreational viewpoint. The courses will include the public presentation of plays and preparation of various types of radio broadcast.

The new children's theatre division starting October 15th will offer late Friday afternoon and Saturday morning classes for young people in acting and play production. The public presentation of plays for children's audiences will be used as a workshop for the individual training and development of the young person in speech, personality and group consciousness.

A pretty autumn candlelight wedding at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Waban, had as its principals Miss Ruth Marion Hanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hanson of Waban and Leon Gray Tuck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Parker Tuck of Brattle street, Cambridge. The Rev. Stanley Ellis read the marriage service.

A coronet of tulle and orange blossoms held in place her chapel length veil of illusion, and she carried a cascade of fleurs d'amour and stephanotis.

For her matron of honor duties, Mrs. James Colin Nesbitt, of Natick, was gowned in bouffant-skirted shrimp lace over taffeta with matching cape of lace and her bouquet combined white baby orchids and green and white ivy. Similarly gowned, but in pale green, were bridesmaids Miss Cornelia Dowd and Miss Deborah Davis of Waban, and Miss Barbara Schlicht, of Belmont, who carried pale lavender orchids arranged with green and white ivy to match their coronets. James Colin Nesbitt, III, was ring bearer for his aunt.

Mr. Tuck had his brother-in-law, Bruce Bedford Jr., of Princeton, N. J., for best man, and the ushers were Edward M. Stuart Jr., and Frank A. Hernberg Jr., of Waban; James C. Nesbitt Jr., of Natick; Clarence O. Kimball of Arlington, Hobart J. Shanley Jr. of Holyoke and Russell E. Dadds of Schenectady.

We feel that the Exchange can be of real service to those who use it, and we urge you to visit the shop in Weeks Junior High School. It is open each Wednesday from 10:30 to 3:30. MR. AND MRS. PARKER SIMMONDS

Miss Jean Hawks Married to Mr. Parker Allen Simmonds

One of the loveliest weddings of September was that of Miss Jean Hawks of West Newton to Mr. Parker Allen Simmonds of Newtonville, in a candlelight service at the Trinity Episcopal Church, Newton Centre, with a reception immediately following at the Woodland Golf Club.

It was an all white wedding, the four bridesmaids and maid of honor wearing white net evening gowns sweeping to the floor and carrying American beauty roses. Their satin slippers occasionally peeked out revealing they were dyed red to match the roses.

The bride was beautifully gowned in pure white satin seeded with pearls and coronet to match. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis, a white star like flower, and the bridesmaids' dresses were of the same flower.

The ushers wore coats and against the shades of the altar it made a beautiful picture.

The bridesmaids were Miss Mimi Caswell and Mrs. Delum Smith of Newtonville. Miss Peggy Hawver of Newton Centre. Miss Annabelle Shephard of West Newton and Miss Joan Herring of Newtonville as maid of honor. The ushers were Mr. Fred Spring of Newton Lower Falls, Mr. Delum Smith of Newtonville, Mr. Donald Plimpton of Whitman, Mass., Mr. Douglas Holman of Natick and Mr. Robert Parker of Newton Lower Falls was best man.

Miss Barbara Ann Siegars Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. George N. Siegars of Newtonville announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Barbara Ann Siegars, to Mr. Henry S. C. Cummings Jr., of Newton Centre.

Miss Siegars, a graduate of Newton High School, is attending the Nursing School of the New England Baptist Hospital.

Mr. Cummings is a graduate of Newton High School and also of Worcester Polytechnic Institute, Class of 1950. He is employed in the Engineering Department of Singer Manufacturing Company of Bridgeport, Connecticut.

New Dance Studio To Be Opened

Alda Marora announces the opening of a new dance studio at the Woman's Club, 61 Washington Park, Newtonville, with other studios in Boston and Dorchester.

Miss Marora's background of study and accomplishments will qualify her as a teacher. Her extensive training began at an early age under the tuition of Madam Haller, premier danseuse of the Opera House in Paris and under such famous teachers as Novikoff, Tarasoff, Edward Canton, Jack Stanley, Johnny Plazza, Nicholas Tsoukales and others all of New York.

She brings to her pupils many years of successful experience on the theatrical stage of the United States and Canada and has also appeared on Broadway in productions of J. J. Schubert in Blossom Time, New Moon, Desert Song and many others and has also toured extensively with San Carlos Opera Company. Newtonville should welcome and be proud to bring to our community that most unusual of artistic gifts, the ability to perform and teach.

Miss Marora believes dancing is a great help in building graceful, sturdy bodies for youngsters and growing girls and keep their minds absorbed with the better things in life.

All type of dancing is taught, ballet, tap, acrobatic and adagio. For further information call DEcatur 2-4695.

Miss Barbara J. McClintock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. McClintock of Auburndale, has registered for the Junior College general course for her senior year at Westbrook Junior College.

It Can Be A Vital Factor

That United Community Services of Metropolitan Boston can become a vital factor, perhaps the most vital factor, in promoting common interest in the health and welfare of the whole area, was the prediction of Charles C. Cabot as he retired from the presidency recently.

This depends, however, he said, upon the realization by the people of Newton and the 54 other affiliated communities that their health and welfare services, both privately and tax-supported, are a common problem.

Patience is a virtue, he indicated, as he reviewed the progress of the year-old UCS, combining the Greater Boston Community Fund and Community Council. While much has already been accomplished, due to the untiring efforts of hundreds of volunteers, both in social planning and money-raising, it will be several years before the full fruits of the new organization can be realized.

Unfortunately, in the past two years, not enough money was contributed to the Community Fund Red Feather campaign to fulfill the needs of all the financially participating member agencies of UCS. Still more unfortunately, this has led some to think about whether they could not do better for themselves, regardless of the whole, if they were free to do their own money-raising. If many took this point of view, it would wreck any idea of centralized fund-raising and common planning. Fortunately, most do not.

While sensing a defeatist attitude, Judge Cabot is confident that the support of the general public can be counted on if it can be made clear to them that this is a fight for the principle that "the greatest good for the greatest number" is applicable to charitable institutions as well as to individuals.

Current Comment

No Holds Barred in Governor's Fight . . . Cash Sickness Bill to Be an Issue . . .

One of the political ideas which has developed in some major fights in recent years is that a candidate for major office should not mention his opponent.

At times that strategy worked successfully, and in other instances it backfired on the man using it.

Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., did not speak a word of criticism against David I. Walsh in his spectacular run in 1946.

Robert F. Bradford talked mostly about the international situation in his campaign against Maurice J. Tobin that same year.

Thomas E. Dewey pitched his campaign on so high a plane two years ago that many of the people decided he was talking over their heads, and some observers pointedly suggested that he would have fared better if he had come down to earth.

Governor Earl Warren, Dewey's running mate, adopted a see-no-evil, hear-no-evil, speak-no-evil technique.

In the 1948 Republican Presidential campaign, the obvious strategy was to do nothing that might tip over the applecart, and the general idea seemed to be that to attack an opponent might be to build him up.

Whatever the reasoning, it made for rather dull electioneering, and many persons who turned out for political rallies, expecting a lusty, old-fashioned fight, went home wishing they had gone to the movies instead.

They aren't likely to experience any such disappointment in this campaign. About the only thing of which you could be certain after the recent Democratic and Republican State conventions is that the next month is going to see a particularly bitter political battle.

Rarely have two candidates for the Governorship opened up on each other more than a month in advance of election in the same free-swinging fashion as have Governor Paul A. Dever and former Lieutenant-Governor Arthur W. Coolidge.

You expect frayed nerves and worn tempers in the closing stages of a campaign, but this fight is only in its warm-up stages, and the real battling hasn't even started, but it already is hotter than most gubernatorial contests at their close.

One explanation is that Governor Dever obviously was incensed at the manner, in which the six candidates for the Republican nomination for Governor assailed him in the recent G.O.P. primary.

Except for the blasts by Edward M. Rowe and the less frequent and more polite thrusts by Judge Frankland W. L. Miles, the six Republican gubernatorial contenders had little to say about each other and a great deal to say about Mr. Dever.

Just about everything Dever did from the time he assumed office was attacked and criticized by the men seeking the role of G.O.P. standard-bearer.

He could not possibly have answered all the blasts made at him on public platforms, over the radio and television, at picnics, clam-bakes and outings, with some of the remarks, of course, quoted in the newspapers, and he had little choice but to remain silent in the primary.

But as soon as the primary was over

Dever struck back, and he quickly dispelled any notion that he was going to be a silent target or political punching bag for the Republican orators.

Former Lieutenant Governor Coolidge by nature also is a rough campaigner who makes no attempt to enclose himself in any ivory tower and who can call a spade by its common name when the need arises.

Mr. Coolidge also has a gifted ghost writer, with a flare for coining phrases, a former Boston newspaper man who turns out the hard-hitting speeches which the fourth cousin of the late Calvin Coolidge delivers.

The tone and temper of this campaign has been set early, and now there is no turning back. It will be more personalized than any waged in recent years for the Governorship of Massachusetts, with both Dever and Coolidge speaking their minds about each other, asking no quarter and giving none.

Once this campaign starts rolling on high, it is likely to see comparatively few dull days.

Serious Platforms Drafted by Both Parties

Usually, the party platforms adopted at the rival State political conventions mean little. They ordinarily are forgotten soon after election, and no one is quite sure what was said in the first place.

As a result in the past all kinds of planks were framed and adopted for making this a better and nobler world and then after the convention were tucked away in file cabinets to be dusted off in another two years.

Last week, however, the leaders in both political parties went about the business of drafting their respective platforms in rather serious and solemn fashion, turning down some of the suggestions that were offered and acting generally as if they intended to redeem their pledges if they were in a position to do so.

In the Democratic camp this task fell to serious-minded House Majority Leader Robert F. Murphy who finally presented a rather scholarly document to the convention delegates, even though it is doubtful that most of the delegates read it, or even know now exactly what was in the platform they approved.

The Democrats pledged themselves again to a battle for the enactment of a cash-sickness benefit, and there was no doubt that they meant it because when some of the labor leaders wanted it stated in the platform that such a program would be financed by a State fund Murphy talked them out of that idea, and no mention was made as to how the financing would be handled.

Other party planks mostly covering things the Democrats have attempted to do during the past two years. Now that the Democrats have committed themselves to another cash-sickness battle, incidentally, it's quite likely that it will be one of the hot campaign issues.

It was noticeable that neither of the two parties took any stand on the initiative petition questions which will appear on the ballot, steering cautiously away from such controversial issues as whether the State should have a flat compulsory automobile insurance rate or a legalized lottery, but there are still plenty of things for the rival contenders to fight about.

A 64-year-old woman called the police in Council Bluffs, Iowa, to complain that a 76-year-old ex-suitor was making a nuisance of himself by driving back and forth past her house at night, racing his motor in front of her door and shining his headlights into her windows.

A notice on the clubhouse bulletin board of the new municipal golf course in Jackson, Miss., reads: "MEMO. All you younger men who do not have money in the banks, please do not cash checks here."

When Mrs. Jennie Schussman, 79, was arrested in Fond du Lac, Wis., with Charles Slater, 63, on a charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct, she told police: "It was our first date."

Vera Gilpin, who walked into the city jail, in San Diego, Calif., and offered to buy candy and cigarettes for the women prisoners, was promptly arrested on a charge of drunkenness.

People do believe in signs. The proprietor of a used car lot in San Diego placed a sign reading, "You Can Steal This One From Us," on a 1939 Buick convertible coupe. He reported to police a few days later that the car had disappeared. Now we are wondering if the person who took it is liable to prosecution.

Arrested in Memphis, Tenn., on a charge of carrying a razor as a weapon, Herman Ivory told police he hadn't even been aware he had the instrument with him. He said he had on two pairs of pants when he bought the razor, that he took off one pair of trousers and left them home and that he thought the razor was in the trousers he had discarded and not the ones he was wearing.

Eyebrows went up in Edinburg, Tex., when Reynaldo Gutierrez was sentenced to six months in jail for beating his girl friend, while Jose Guzman de Leon went to the same jail for only 30 days for doing the same to his wife.

Earl R. Gray of Bangor, Me., was sent to prison for allegedly stealing $1200 which he had used to set up a detective agency.

Oscar M. Powell, who sells firearms in his Lincoln, Neb., barbershop, reported that a man selected a pistol, carefully loaded it and then held him up and robbed him of $75 plus the pistol.

The town council in Sevierville, Tenn., adopted an ordinance permitting communists to live in their community but specified that each communist taking advantage of that opportunity must post a $1,000,000 bond.

A thief in Spring Lake, Mich., stole William Manning's 1947 Chevrolet and left a 1937 buick in its place.

Red Cross Annual Meeting Oct. 16

The Annual Meeting of the Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, will be held Monday, October 16, at 6:30 p.m., at the Normandie Room, at Normandie Park.

Following the meeting of the membership, at which election of officers will take place, there will be a meeting of the Board of Directors to consider amendments to the By-Laws.

The meeting will feature displays of the various services, a report by Riley J. Hampton, Disaster Chairman, on the October 7th Disaster Drill, and an address by Everett C. Galloway of the American National Red Cross in Washington, on the subject "Red Cross Faces the Future."

unknown origin, and we are assuming that the area is on fire, many stores and dwellings are burning, some persons are dead, many are injured, and many more are without food, shelter and other necessities. This is a 'dry run' on a problem that may never confront us, but which every community should be prepared to face."

The test schedule calls for immediate mobilization after "zero hour" of all participating units "to save as many lives as possible" and theoretically evacuate residents from the stricken area. Inasmuch as telephone communications will be disrupted by the force of the imaginary blast, Red Cross mobile and stationary radio units will be put in operation under the supervision of Alan W. Burke, and will function in coordination with the Newton police network under the direction of Walter W. Hartford, Police Radio Technician. Direct contact will thereby be maintained between Red Cross headquarters, the disaster scene, and the Newton-Wellesley Hospital, as well as any other critical points which need to be covered. Volunteers from Red Cross and Junior Red Cross will simulate "victims" of the disaster. The actual field test will be completed in the course of about two hours.

Miss Margaret Spiller of 110 Woodland road, Auburndale, a graduate of Newton High, has begun her freshman year at Simmons College. A member of the National Honor Society, Miss Spiller served as copy-editor of her high school yearbook, rally committee chairman, and home-room manager.

According to Mrs. V. The various programs include movies, games with prizes, a Hallowe'en Fun Room featuring uproarious stunts and spine-chilling thrills, and refreshments. The kindergartners will have their parties in the afternoon, from 3:30 to 4:15; grades 1 through 3, from 7 'til 8:30 in the evening; and grades 4, 5 and 6, from 7 to 9 p.m. Mrs. Grammont announces that chairmen for the separate grade-parties are: Kindergarten, Mrs. R. Scammon and Mrs. C. Segal; Grade 1, Mrs. L. DiRusso and Mrs. U. Jones; Grade 2, Mrs. Edward Grinspoon, Mrs. E. Nichols and Mrs. P. Stoner; Grade 3, Mrs. W. Hoops and Mrs. T. Urell; Grade 4, Mrs. F. Hunsicker; Grade 5, Mrs. R. Smith; Grade 6, Mrs. D. Fletcher.

Dancing will be a popular part of the program arranged for the F. A. Day Jr. High School party in the Senior High Gymnasium. Mr. E. Kurland, Building Chairman, says that besides the dancing, he and his committee are introducing more entertainment than last year to step up the pace of the party for the 400 boys and girls of the 7th to 9th grades who will attend. In addition, the activities, which will run from 7:30 to 10 p.m., include unusual games, a Celebrities entertainment, fortune telling, refreshments, and a Midway which will prove that when human imaginations get to work almost anything unexpected can be expected to happen. Assisting Mr. Kurland are Mr. Ralph Morse, Mr. and Mrs. Beaven, Mr. Martel, Mr. Bloom and Mrs. Cook.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Green, Building Chairmen, of the 7th grade party to be held in the Union Church, Waban, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., report that their committee has planned an outstanding program. Featured will be at top-notch Chamber of Horrors in the chillingest chamber-of-horror style. A midway, with competitive games in which prizes will be awarded, fortune telling, and various other activities, will keep things humming, with time out for square dancing, movies and refreshments. The following are members of Mr. and Mrs. Green's committees: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blount, Mrs. Henry A. Plimpton, Mr. and Mrs. John Van Brunt, Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Williams, Mr. and Mrs. James O'Neill, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Hiltbrand, Mr. and Mrs. Kervin Goldman, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nye, and Mr. and Mrs. S. Huppertz.

Mrs. Thomas S. Derr and Mrs. Morrill P. Mims, co-Chairmen of the Angier School parties, Waban, announce the following Room Chairmen for the various grades: Kindergarten, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Fanning and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin A. Hill; Grade 1, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Stack, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Zens and Mr. and Mrs. Lytton H. Dowson; Grade 2, Mr. and Mrs. William Durbin, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Finnerty and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Drayton; Grade 3, Mr. and Mrs. Willibrod C. Bensdorf, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Berwick and Mr. and Mrs. A. Gilman Sawyer; Grade 4, Mr. and Mrs. John Curtin, Mr. and Mrs. John Pokorny and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hueston; Grade 5, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Eaton; Grade 6, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Bean, Mr. and Mrs. James Coleman and Mr. and Mrs. James Kotsaftis.

The parties at the Davis School, West Newton, for grades 1 through 6, will begin at 6:30 p.m. for the smaller children, and end at 9:15 for the older groups, as announced by R. H. Cobb, Building Chairman. Merry programs have been outlined for each room party, including gay games with prizes, a costume parade, movies and a Chamber of Horrors with plenty of "horror." The committee chairmen assisting Building Chairmen Robert H. Cobb and Guy R. King are: Program, Mrs. Rovilla Voysey; Room Coordinator, Mrs. John D. Calderwood; Publicity, Mrs. A. I. Sherman; Parade, George Higgins; Door, Henry B. Donovan; Refreshments, Mrs. Dana Sprague; Chamber of Horrors, George Wurster; Costume Judge, Miss Mary Bradley; and the First Aider will be a woman appointed through the Police Department by G. J. Champagne.

Over 200 boys and girls of the 8th and 9th grades will have their party in the Bigelow Jr. High School, Newton, report Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Booher, Building Chairmen. The affair will begin at 7:30 p.m., and dancing will be the top feature. Since Junior High students prefer "live" music, the committee has again engaged Alan Kempainen and his orchestra, inasmuch as they were a hit last year at the Bigelow party. In addition to both square and social dancing, there will be a magician who "knows his stuff," and games in variety. "We intend," say the chairmen, "to obtain the services of a competent leader to take over the games, call out the square dancing and keep things moving generally." Members of the student body are assisting the committee with suggestions and the committee, state Mr. and Mrs. Booher, will "be guided by the students' ideas in our plans for the evening's entertainment so that there will be a varied program and everybody will have fun." As in the case of all other parties, refreshments will be served. Working under the all-over direction of Mr. and Mrs. Booher, Building Chairmen, are the following committee chairmen: Decorating, Mrs. Ralph L. Angier; Program, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Marglin; Refreshments, Mrs. Henry C. Jones, Jr.; Publicity, Mrs. Joseph Clifford French.

Volunteers At Work

"Army" Drive in Full Swing Throughout Newton

With a determination to omit not one who is interested in helping the Salvation Army continue its devoted work among the needy, Newton's 800 and more volunteer workers, under the leadership of Mrs. Edward Godfrey Huber, Overall Residential Chairman, are making calls at every home, according to Kenneth E. Prior, General Chairman.

"All of us in the organization," said Mr. Prior, "are resolved to meet Newton's quota in this year's appeal for funds. I believe we can do even better than that, because the good work of the Salvation Army is now so well known that more people than ever are interested in seeing its program of material aid and spiritual encouragement continue. And the fact that the 'Army's' humane activities are handled so economically and efficiently, without a cent of waste, looms large in the minds of Newton people. After all, when we give our dollars, we all like to feel they are going to be stretched as far as is humanly possible. And what the 'Army' can do with each dollar is, I have been told, not equalled by any other charitable organization in its field."

To crystallize the generally accepted attitude of Newton citizens, Mr. Prior referred to the words of Captain Walker of the Newton Police Department, who said recently: "People in Newton are noted for being conservative and very careful how they spend their money. But they are perfectly willing to go all out to support the Salvation Army, year after year."

Volunteer workers are still "flocking to the colors," according to Mrs. Huber, Residential Chairman. During the past week, the following additional team captains and workers joined her large force:

Newton Highlands Workers: Mrs. George Wiggins, Mrs. Frank Console, Mrs. Donald Bishop, Mrs. Francis Laurie, Mrs. George Haigh, Mrs. Owen Birtwistle, Mrs. Roy White, Mrs. William Lowery.

WE CAN'T AFFORD TO ADD . . . ACCIDENTS ^{in the} HOME TO THE EVERYDAY HIGHWAY ACCIDENTS AND OTHER TRAGEDIES THAT ARE REGULAR OCCURENCES

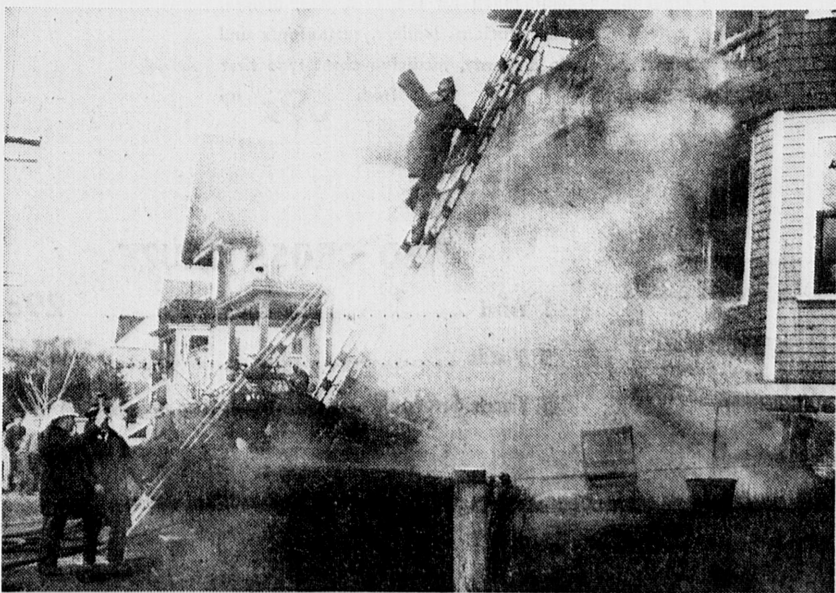

CHIEF PURCELL — Head of Newton's Police Force which keeps Newton's record good.

Every citizen of Newton should prepare now to make OCTOBER (and every month) a true example through which every unnecessary mishap is prevented.

FIRE IS NO RESPECTER of hours. This blaze occurred here last January in the middle of the night and made seven persons homeless and hospitalized one member of the Newton Fire Department.

THIS TWO ALARM fire occurred here last April and drove 3 families from the house. Efficient work by the Newton Fire Department saved the house from destruction.

CHIEF PURCELL—
HEAD of our POLICE DEPARTMENT SAYS:

Most accidents, both on the highway and in the home, are avoidable. Let all of us do our part in accident prevention. The Newton Graphic is doing its part in the current Graphic Safety Campaign . . . congratulations and best wishes in this splendid contribution to safety in Newton.

NEWTON'S THIRD FATALITY OF 1950 resulted at the Concord street bridge, Lower Falls, when the crash occurred. A Boston University student was killed and a classmate critically injured. The car was demolished.

THIS CRASH OCCURRED AT PARK AND FRANKLIN STREETS and was the result of the car going out of control and crashing into a tree. Five young Belmont girls, out for a ride, were seriously injured as a result.

LOSING CONTROL OF HIS CAR while driving on Washington street, this driver crashed into a light pole with the above result. He was hospitalized.

Endorse Graphic Safety Campaign!

EMERGENCIES
DON'T WAIT!

Heed the National Safety Council! Every 3 seconds an accident happens to someone! Think of it! Every 3 seconds!

Check Your Home Safety Conditions:

1. Securely screen or protect all windows so no one can fall through?
2. "Skid-proof" or tack down all small rugs?
3. Use a sturdy step-ladder, to reach high places, instead of an unsafe substitute (box, stool)?
4. Keep all tools, kitchen utensils, toys, and clothes in definite places when they are not in use?
5. Arrange furniture so no one will fall over it in the dark or when in a hurry?
6. Avoid having any "trailing" electric cords that may cause someone to trip and fall?

GASES AND POISONS ARE VERY USEFUL in our daily lives but can be vicious killers. Do you keep them under control by:

7. Clearly labeling all household poisons (insect sprays, disinfectants) and medicines (sleeping tablets, antiseptics) and storing them out of the reach of children?
8. Reading and carefully following directions when using the contents of bottles, jars and cans of foods, and medicines?
9. Keeping a window open slightly, top and bottom, in the room where a gas heater or stove is in use?
10. Having pilot lights and connections on gas stoves and heaters checked and kept in good repair?

FIRE AND BURNS constantly claim a heavy toll in human lives and cause painful scarring. Do you protect your family by:

11. Allowing no one to smoke in bed?
12. Keeping religious or decorative table candles away from walls, curtains, and other decorations?
13. Keeping matches in covered metal containers and out of the reach of small children?
14. Refusing to buy or use cleaning fluids unless they are labeled NON-flammable or NON-inflammable?

HAVE YOU REMOVED OTHER HAZARDS from your home, such as:

15. Frayed electric cords or electric equipment in need of repair?
16. Knives, scissors and sharp tools that have been left about or stored carelessly, or are within the reach of small children?
17. Flower boxes and other objects on window ledges?
18. Loaded firearms or war trophies that have not been deactivated (made incapable of firing)?
19. Objects piled carelessly on closet shelves so they may fall and strike anyone opening the door?
20. An old fashioned can opener which leaves sharp, jagged edges that may cause severe cuts?

ACCIDENTS AS THE HOSPITAL SEES THEM

EMERGENCY TREATMENT of accident cases almost always starts in the specially equipped emergency operating room adjacent to the hospital's accident ward. Here are ready at hand all the necessary instruments, medications and dressings needed for starting treatment. Plasma, oxygen, sterile vasoline for the treatment of burns is ready and waiting. Immediate minor surgery is frequently essential and this specially equipped room provides complete facilities for this type of treatment.

In Normal Year Over 3,600 Persons Come to Accident Ward of N-W Hospital

During the course of a normal year, somewhat over thirty-six hundred persons come to the accident ward of your Newton-Wellesley Hospital for treatment of injuries sustained in accidents. Some are brought in by Police ambulance, some drive or are driven to the hospital in cars and some seem almost to wander in off the street.

Your hospital has to be ready twenty-four hours a day to provide immediate aid for these injured people. And their injuries range from the minor inconvenience of a slightly bruised finger to multiple lacerations, contusions and fractures, in which the patient's life is in danger.

About ten times on the average day, someone comes through the ground floor entrance to the accident ward seeking assistance. And on rare occasions the load may double.

Let us look, for a minute, at the accident record for two succeeding days to review the type of injury which is treated at your hospital's accident ward. The following is a verbatim copy of reports on accident causes made at the time of admission: "hit by a golf ball," "stung on eye-ball by a bee," "fell from horizontal bar on playground," "dropped barrel on foot," "bike pedal punctured thigh," "fell out of tree while picking pears," "burned by gasoline in blowtorch," "swallowed lollipop stick," "caught hand in wringer," "swallowed range oil," "infant ate safety matches," "caught arm under auto engine," "soaked in mouth," "fell on spoon," "fish-hook in left temple," "foot stepped on by a horse," "caught tongue in hood of baby carriage," "kitten fell on patient," "child threw sand in patient's eyes."

It just so happened that there are no automobile accidents in the above two days experience. And, as a general rule, automobile accidents account for substantially less than half the total accident load. But people who are injured in cars are apt to be quite extensively injured.

Friday night seems to be an exceptionally heavy night. John Wage-earner comes home from work, has his supper, gets into his old clothes and decides to move furniture, or hang a picture, or tinker a while in his cellar workshop. John is tired. It has been a tough week at the office. His attention wanders for a second and bang—he's a customer for the accident ward.

John's kids are an active gang, too. The sandlot baseball game produces its share of casualties as does the tennis court and the football field.

John's wife finds that her daily household involves hidden risks. The washing machine has a ring that reaches out and grabs at her fingers. The tea kettle has a slippery handle that defies her grasp. Waxed floors and slippery carpets conspire to dump her unceremoniously on the floor with a broken wrist or ankle. And electric irons have fallen and broken hundreds of toes. Her stove is an enemy, too, as is the bathroom, each being the scene of incidents in which she is the loser.

And then there is the family car. It is constantly running into other cars or the ubiquitous telephone pole or people who cross busy streets on a dark, rainy night wearing black clothing. But the people who are riding in the family car are usually hurt by striking some part of their bodies against the inside surface of the car. Stock car racing drivers, who are helmeted and who wear safety belts which hold them firmly in their seats are seldom hurt, even in the more spectacular of their crashes.

As soon as the patient enters the accident ward there are several jobs to be done. First the extent and nature of the injuries must be determined. And all injuries are not immediately apparent. A lacerated scalp may hide a fractured skull. At times acute symptoms may mask equally important yet less painful or dramatic symptoms. There are occasions when the patient is unable to tell or even know just where and how badly he is hurt. So the first vital step in treating an accident is in its evaluation. While this is going on, and if the patient is capable of giving the information, a history is being started, so that the hospital may have a record of the injury and its treatment. These records are required by law and form a useful part of the hospital's total experience.

The thing that bothered the public the most about the accident ward is that it is sometimes necessary to wait for what seems like a long period before the intern arrives to start treatment. This bothered the hospital staff, too, but there are just so many interns to go around and at times their services may be more urgently needed elsewhere in the hospital. However, the nurse on duty is trained to evaluate the patient's need and her judgment is usually better than that of the patient or his family. You may be sure that your hospital's staff will not permit a seriously injured patient to go long untreated. We are highly aware of the problem. We only ask, "Try to realize, while you may be asked to wait, that some other patient's need is greater than your own."

As soon as the type and extent of the injury has been fully disclosed, treatment is started. This can range from medical advice, up through minor surgical repairs to the major surgical procedures made necessary by extensive injuries.

An emergency operating room is an integral part of the equipment of the accident ward. Here can be found all of the drugs, stimulants, instruments, mechanical devices to be used in the alleviation of suffering and the restoration to health of the affected person. Oxygen and plasma are at hand. Sutures, needles and needle holders are ready, with always an extra supply available. Scissors, forceps and clamps are kept surgically clean and ready. Rubber gloves and aprons, sterile sheets and towels are on hand to permit the establishment of a sterile operating field. An anesthesia machine is part of the emergency equipment, as is a suction device to free clogged air passages. A special burn cart carries all of the equipment needed in the treatment of burns and an orthopedic cart carries all the devices used in the treatment of fractures and other damage to the body's bones and muscles. Special instruments and drugs are provided for the treatment of injuries to the eyes, ears, nose and throat. But perhaps the most special of special equipment is not medical at all, but psychological. It consists of a high stuffed elephant with a bandaged trunk, a rubber airplane with a spinning propeller and a box of lollipops. These have helped countless youngsters forget their troubles while being treated.

The accident ward is regularly staffed by graduate and student nurses and intern and resident doctors. For such cases as demand more expert attention, the staff of specialists is ever available on call. Since many of these men spend a large part of their days at the hospital, it is only rarely necessary to wait for consultative advice. And the main operating suite on the third floor of the hospital is in a state of readiness right around the clock so that more extensive surgical procedures can be carried out on very short notice.

Most accidents are slight. They may not seem so to the patient or to those who bring him into the hospital, but the fact remains that most accident cases do not require elaborate operative procedures. But this does not mean that your hospital can for a minute relax its state of preparedness for one can never tell when a major accident may occur.

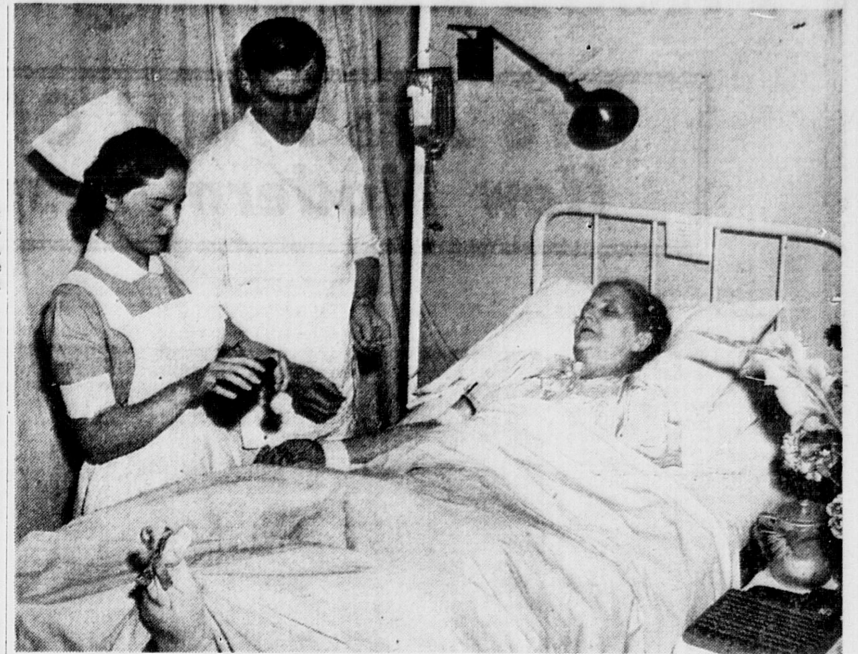

Within our recent experience, it was at ten minutes past eleven of a normally quiet Saturday night when the Makalot Plastics plant blew up in Waltham. Within the next half-hour, twenty-eight severely burned patients were admitted to the accident ward of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital. Most of us are familiar with the way in which the hospital arose to this pressing demand. But few of us realize how serious a burden it places on the hospital's physical and organizational facilities. And, unlike most accident cases, these men were so seriously injured as to require extensive, elaborate and prolonged treatment. So even though a like occasion arises but once in twenty years, we have no accurate way of foretelling when and how it may strike.

Naturally everyone who works closely with accidents for any period of time has a few choice bits of advice to hand out—helpful do's and don't's.

Rule number one. Don't get excited. The doctors and nurses know what they are doing—in fact they spend most of their time coping with emergency situations.

Don't get impatient. Sometimes it is best to "make haste slowly" and particularly in the field of medicine where it is always best to know where you are headed before moving.

Please leave the room when requested by the doctor or nurse. Junior, fully aware of the drama of his plight, will wait a lot less if Daddy or Mommy is not standing on the sidelines cheering him on. The doctor is just as interested in controlling pain as you are in having it controlled. And he

ALL TOO MANY ACCIDENTS are serious enough to warrant an extended hospitalization. After the preliminary emergency treatments have started the patient on the way back to health, the longer range program of providing adequate nursing and medical care goes into gear. This patient is receiving an intravenous injection to counteract the effects of the shock produced by the accident which severely injured her.

Red Cross Safety Services Based on Principles of Accident Prevention

In the month of October, which has been set aside nationally as Accident Prevention month, active in this field of endeavor.

Founded on the principles of Henri Dunant, the Swiss banker, whose vivid impressions of the suffering he witnessed on the battlefield of Solferino, caused him to devote a lifetime to the organization of volunteers in every country to care for the sick and wounded in time of war and natural catastrophe, the American Red Cross, a member of the International Red Cross organization, expanded this concept in its Congressional Charter of 1905, which charged the organization with the obligation of "Devising and carrying on measures for preventing the sufferings caused by pestilence, famine, fire, floods and other great national calamities." All of the programs of Red Cross stem from these two principles, the prevention or alleviation of suffering.

The Disaster program, which must be maintained by every chapter in the country, has two distinct aspects, preparedness, and relief. Part of the preparedness plan for every chapter is a study of the potential hazards within its territory. Frequently community action to remove such hazards comes as a result of this survey.

The Safety Services of Red Cross are all based on the principle of prevention of accidents and loss of life. In First Aid courses instruction is given not only in treatment of accident victims, but in safety measures designed to prevent accidents from occurring.

During the past year in Newton First Aid classes were given in the public schools, at Lasell Junior College, to Scout leaders, Women's Auxiliary School Patrol and instructors of the Physical Education Department of the Newton schools.

Water Safety is another program conducted in Newton with the aim of prevention of loss of life from drowning. Instructors do not stop at merely teaching how to swim, but stress how to avoid danger in the water. They warn against swimming immedately after meals, against swimming alone, or in unknown waters, against practical jokes at the water front. They inspect water fronts used for summer camps and public beaches, and recommend roping off of areas for protected swimming, clearing the beach of stones and sharp objects under water, to prevent accidents from occurring at the water front. In Newton, all school children are urged to register for free water safety instruction through the Junior Red Cross in the schools, toward the end that every Newton child will be able to take care of himself in the water. This past summer over 1700 children enrolled in this program.

Home Nursing classes, planned to teach families to care for their members in the home, stress measures for the prevention of contagion by using precaution in handling materials for the sickroom, the proper washing of dishes and thermometers, disposal of waste, etc. 369 persons received training in Home Nursing in the Newton Chapter in the past year.

The newest program of Red Cross, the National Blood Program, is making great contributions in the prevention of deaths from accidents and operations, by making whole blood available to physicians in greater quantities than ever before. Constant research in the field of blood by leading haematologists on the Red Cross medical advisory staff is resulting in constant new discoveries all contributing to the prevention of loss of life. Gamma globulin, supplied to Public Health departments through Red Cross and distributed free of charge is used to prevent the serious effects of measles. Where blood transfusions in the past were given only as a last resort, they are now given routinely in many types of operations, providing an additional safety factor when a life is in balance.

A newspaper columnist once remarked that Red Cross was in the unique position of working as an organization to put itself out of a job. The day may be long in coming when there will be no accident victims for First Aiders to care for, no disasters to cope with, no war suffering to be alleviated. But it is toward that day that your Red Cross is constantly working.

One Person Dies Every 16 Min. As a Result of a Home Accident

An average of one person dies every 16 minutes as a result of a home accident. One person is permanently disabled every four minutes. Someone is temporarily disabled every seven seconds. These statistics, given by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, are alarming enough to make the citizens of Newton sit up and take notice. Winter, when more than half the accidents occur, is just ahead. Now's the time to join the Graphic in an active campaign to lower the accident rate in homes.

Home accidents in 1949 killed 31,000 and injured 4,650,000 people; approximately 125,000 were permanently hurt. Almost four times as many disabling injuries result from home accidents as from motor vehicle accidents. Accidents in the home cost the nation $600,000,000 in lost wages, medical expenses, and insurance overhead.

An overall picture of the causes of accidental deaths and injuries reveals that falls cause more trouble than any other hazard. Second on the list are burns from fires and explosions, followed by mechanical suffocation, poisons and poisonous gas, firearms and fireworks and other causes. Principal causes in each group are given below. The percentages represent population death rate:

Under 1 year, mechanical suffocation, 43.5%; 1 to 4 years, fire burns, 6.9%; 5 to 14 years, fire burns, 2.3%; 15 to 24 years, firearms, 1.3%; 25 to 44 years, fire burns, 1.5%; 45 to 64 years, falls, 5.2%; 65 years and over, falls, 11.8%.

Principle causes of home accidents, according to the New York University Center for Safety Education, are poor judgment, hurry, using improper equipment, physical frailty, handicaps, youth, and disorder in the home.

To test your own safety habits and the safety of your home, check the following list put out by the National Safety Council. A score of 28-32 is excellent; 24-28 is good; 20-24 is fair. Below 20 you're welcoming hazards, not safety:

Citizens Must Be On The Alert

Today, when the possibility of A-bomb or H-bomb attack can no longer be classified as a year 2000 fantasy, Newton, as well as every other city in the United States, needs to be on the alert in preparing its citizens for emergencies. Air Force Head W. Stuart Symington says that in this airatomic age there is now "no longer any place for anyone to hide. Recent testimony before the Congress shows that our defenses against atomic attack can be improved, but regardless of any additional sum we might spend on these defenses, it is certain we cannot adequately protect ourselves against at least the partial success of a sudden intensive surprise atomic attack. "That attack can be blunted, but cannot be stopped; and its destructive effect will be in direct proportion to our preparation—not only military preparation but also civilian defense preparation.

"It is estimated that with only 12 minutes' warning as against no warning, and under efficiently planned civilian defense, the casualties in a city hit by an atomic bomb could be reduced 50 percent."

The responsibility for first-aid education in this civil defense program will go to the American Red Cross, according to Dr. Carl J. Potthoff, national director of

Baby Sitters Pledge

I have one of the most responsible jobs in the world. I am in charge of a priceless possession. From the moment that I start my duties until the parents return, . . . I will keep awake, alert, watchful. . . . I will be prepared to meet any emergency of accident or illness.

. . . I will know how and where to call the doctor, the police, the fire department, the telephone number where parents, near friends or neighbors may be reached. . . . I will know how to properly care for simple burns, cuts and bruises.

. . . When entering a strange home, I will take careful note of my surroundings, and will observe and if possible correct any condition that may cause an accident during my presence.

. . . I will not permit my charges to play around stoves, electrical appliances or upon stairways.

. . . I will not permit them to play with matches, knives or other sharp objects, or with unsafe toys.

. . . I will feed my charges only what mother specifies and nothing else.

. . . I will lock all outside doors after parents leave—will not open them to strangers.

. . . I will faithfully follow her other instructions.

. . . I am fully aware that a child's life is in my hands. . . . I will do all in my power to protect that life.

First Aid and Accident Prevention. The regular first aid courses will be the foundation of the training plus a supplement dealing with first aid for civil defense emergencies. "Almost all the injuries likely to be sustained in modern warfare can be handled according to methods suggested in the current First Aid Textbook," Potthoff said.

The responsibility for participation in this program lies with the people of Newton themselves. Let's be prepared for any emergency by proper training—now.

Miss Nancy Hockridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hockridge of Newton Highlands, has registered for the secretarial science course for the second year at Westbrook Junior College, Portland, Me.

Start of First Aid

Pioneer in the field of first aid training was Dr. M. J. Shields, organizer of a first aid training class in Jermyn, Pa., to prepare workers for treating the injured in mine accidents.

Before this important innovation, primitive methods of treating injuries had been used. Often the distance from the scene of the accident to the hospital was too long and the injured person would die as a result of gangrene. Dr. Shields concluded after 10 years of such experiences that first aid must be a reality instead of a mere prospect, and on October 25, 1899, he formed the First-Aid Association of Jermyn, Pa., acting as an instructor and medical director.

The Red Cross First Aid Service began in 1910 when Major Charles G. Lynch, Army medical officer, was assigned by the War Department to head it. A change in policy allowed expansion by providing for the training of lay instructors in addition to training previously carried on only by physicians.

During World War II the increased demand for first aid training was met by the Red Cross with the result that more than 3,600,000 first aid certificates were issued in the fiscal year 1941-42. The copyrighted Red Cross First Aid textbook became the nation's best seller. Twelve million certificates were issued by the end of the 1948 fiscal year.

With losses by fire increasing yearly throughout our nation it is imperative that everyone observe the usual instructions given out during Fire Prevention Week.

The Newton Fire Department has established an educational program in conjunction with our School Department whereby pupils are instructed on fire safety and the danger from fire in homes and such instruction has proved to be most valuable.

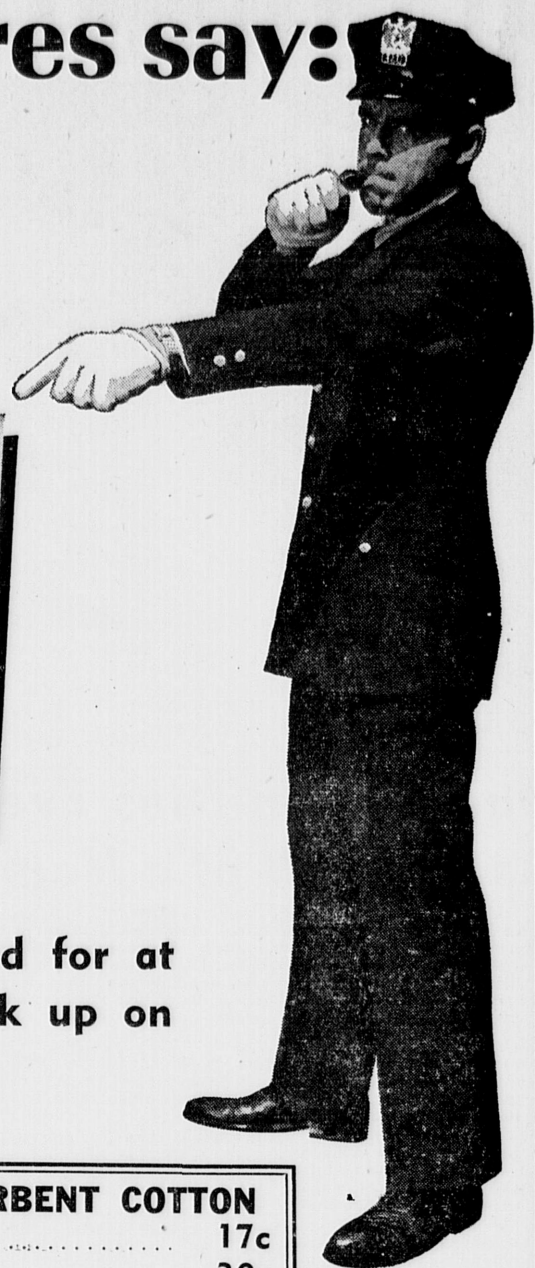

During Fire Prevention Week an intensive inspection program will be carried out in all business districts, schools, factories, theatres, institutions, etc., by officers assigned to company districts.

Realistic Disaster Drill Staged By Red Cross Is Declared Very Successful

The drill staged Saturday by the Disaster Committee of the Newton Red Cross Chapter under the direction of Riley J. Hampton proved successful, and beneficial facts were obtained which will undoubtedly prove of great value for actual disasters should any occur in Newton.

In the drill Saturday, nine persons "died" and 104 were "injured," many of them seriously, in the practice "disaster" which called out more than 175 Red Cross personnel plus members of the Police and Fire Departments in a test of the city's readiness to cope with such an emergency. Activity was concentrated mainly in the area of Cabot Park.

The first word of the "disaster" was reported to Police headquarters at 8:51 a.m., and Capt. Charles E. Walker notified the Red Cross Disaster Chairman Riley J. Hampton. All available members of the police department, comprising 45 officers and men, were dispatched to the scene where Deputy Chief Patrick J. King was in charge.

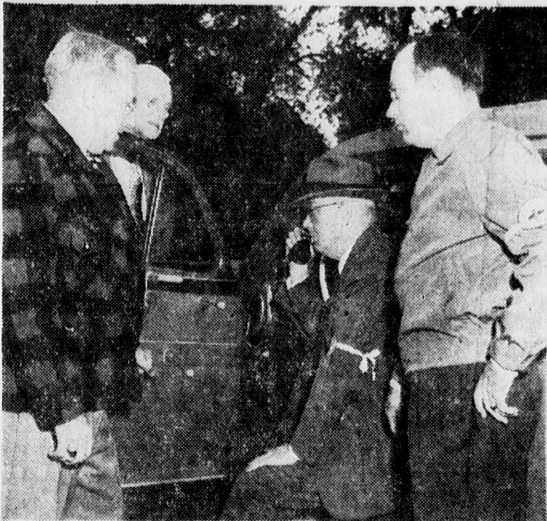

A block area was established and only official personnel was permitted to approach the scene. At Cabot Park, a bonfire was set to simulate a burning city block and Chief John E. Corcoran of the Fire department issued orders over a public address system set up by Police Radio Technician Walter W. Hartford.

Alerted by police, the Newton-Wellesley Hospital was immediately prepared to receive the victims and physicians, nurses and attendants made provisions for handling the rush of "casualties," principally Junior Red Cross members. Given First Aid, the "victims" were taken to the Cabot School where a Red Cross Field House was set up.

In the drill a major "explosion" occurred and was followed by fires which devastated a block of homes and business structures, "killing" nine and "injuring" 104 while rendering scores of others "homeless."

Relief workers appeared at the scene promptly, and began at once to render prompt and effective assistance and relief. The Fire department was assisted in extinguishing the "blazing" block by volunteer workers, and medical services were rendered the "injured" 35 of who were supposedly seriously wounded.

Eleven Christmas seal committees for the 1950 anti-tuberculosis campaign have been formed by Newton's women's clubs, it has been announced by the Newton general chairman, Mrs. Frank L. Ogilvie. The local chairman met recently at Mrs. Ogilvie's home in Newtonville to discuss preparations for the annual mail sale, which will begin November 20. Miss Alice Gallagher, executive secretary of the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association, described to the group the tuberculosis control work that is done in Newton with Christmas seal funds.

She said the Association's services included chest X-raying, health education, rehabilitation of ex-tuberculous patients to help them become self-supporting, and medical research.

The new village chairmen are: Mrs. Joseph A. Bedard, West Newton; Mrs. Anthony W. Chalkowski, Newton Upper Falls; Mrs. Henry J. Chandonait Jr., Oak Hill Park; Mrs. E. Lake Jones, Newton Centre; Mrs. Hugo M. Marulli, Newton Lower Falls; Mrs. Raymond E. Perkins, Auburndale; Mrs. Gordon Pinkham, Waban; Miss Cora W. Rogers, Newtonville; Mrs. Nehemiah Roulstone, Newton Highlands; Mrs. A. Thomas Sundborg, Newton; and Mrs. George C. Thompson, West Newton.

43,401 Now On Voting List Here

The total number of voters registered at the close of registration last Friday evening was 43,401, a record for a non-Presidential year.

In the period between the September primaries and Friday night, a total of 1,902 citizens enrolled as voters with 837 registrations taking place at City Hall Friday between 8:30 a.m. and 10 p.m.

"Those energetic young men and women of Oak Hill Park," said Kenneth E. Prior, Newton general chairman, "deserve the greatest praise for their spirit and fine work. And their spirit, I'm glad to say, typifies the determination of our entire organization to make this 'Army' campaign gloriously successful."

The Cambridge Tuberculosis and Health Association.

The workshop will provide a background for teachers in developing and integrating a well-rounded school health program which will coordinate with the community program in public health.

Among the topics to be discussed are the psychology of teaching health; fundamentals in planning a school health program; health education through health services; meeting the health needs of children; healthful school living; curriculum planning in health for both elementary and secondary schools; and solving school and community health problems.

Speakers Bureau Is Established

The Voters Service Committee of the Newton League of Women Voters offers as a public service a Speakers Bureau.

In line with its nonpartisan policy of informing citizens on public issues, the League has speakers available for church groups, organizations, civic groups, etc. in order to clarify the November ballot questions for the voter.

The speakers are Mrs. Malcolm Vosburgh, Mrs. Maurice Strauss, Mrs. Theodore Friedrichs and Mrs. John McClutock. Anyone wishing to avail himself of this service may contact Mrs. Malcolm Vosburgh at LA 7-8608 for a speaker.

As of October 6, the Voters Service Committee has checked its entire membership and announces that all of its qualified members are registered.

Oak Hill Park First To Finish "Army" Canvass

Directed by Mrs. Henry Chandonait, chairman, and Mrs. Frederick Wood, co-chairman, Oak Hill Park teams of workers in the current Salvation Army's drive for funds, last week completed a whirlwind canvass of every home in their area. Thus the "Park" earns the honor of being the first Newton district to report 100 percent of its calls made.

"Those energetic young men and women of Oak Hill Park," said Kenneth E. Prior, Newton general chairman, "deserve the greatest praise for their spirit and fine work. And their spirit, I'm glad to say, typifies the determination of our entire organization to make this 'Army' campaign gloriously successful."

Generally speaking gifts are coming in well. Old friends are standing by loyally. And it's gratifying to see how many first-timers are this year joining the ranks of contributors. But the goal is not yet even in sight. Some sections of the city are —"ARMY"—

The Achievement Spreads

Newton's Halloween Win Nation-wide Interest

At the National Recreation Congress, held from October 2nd to 6th in the Statler Hotel, Cleveland, Ohio, great interest was shown by recreation leaders from numerous cities, in widely-spread sections of the country, in the programming and procedure of Newton's annual Halloween parties.

Mrs. Ragna Hovgaard, Newton Supervisor of Recreation, and Chairman of the Halloween Program Committee, attended the Congress and reports that recreation officials bombarded her with questions about how Newton handles the intricate job of staging 240 separate parties for 10,000 school children. Those men were particularly attentive to her explanation of the committee set-up, and were amazed that it was possible to enlist 1400 parents and others for six full weeks of endless program planning, culminating in the personal direction of the parties, themselves. They declared that they had found difficulty in organizing and maintaining a force of volunteers for a single day's concentrated effort. Mrs. Hovgaard pointed out that Newton parents are exceptional in their loyalty to this vast children's celebration, and are ready to sacrifice their private affairs for weeks in order to "put over" the parties in a big way.

"It's clear," said Mrs. Hovgaard, on her return to Newton, "that our community has won wide and favorable publicity all over the country for the outstanding success of our parties. And that success is due, beyond question, to the fine cooperation we receive from every corner of the City, and particularly, to the devotion of the committees of parents, who leave no stone unturned to make Halloween an event that the children will never forget."

Community Council

Hugh Harwood Is Named Chairman of Committee On Inter-Agency Work

At a recent meeting of the Community Council's committee on Inter-Agency Cooperation the following slate of officers was accepted for the coming year: Chairman, Hugh Harwood; Vice-Chairman, Mrs. Worthing L. West; Secretary, Mrs. E. T. Copeland; Program Chairman, (temporary) Charles O. Richter. The Nominating Committee was composed of Miss Adelaide B. Ball, Charles B. Floyd and Maxwell P. Gaddis, chairman.

In taking over as chairman Mr. Harwood stated he accepted the position as a neutral moderator, but would need to be informed and asked the help and indulgence of all members. He reiterated the purposes of the committee: 1, to further cooperation between the agencies, to work together more efficiently and to avoid overlapping; 2, to inform the Council of health and welfare problems; 3, to recommend community-wide health and welfare programs. Through this committee the Council hopes to broaden its base of participation, to reach more people and bring community problems into the open.

If Voted

Every Car Owner to Pay $5-$6 More

"A flat rate for compulsory automobile insurance would cost the city of Newton some $110,000 a year in increased insurance premiums, for its compulsory automobile insurance," Myron A. Kittleson, of Needham, an executive of the Hardware Mutual Casualty Insurance Company, told the Oak Hill Village Woman's Club at a meeting here yesterday (Wednesday).

"Unless the flat rate is defeated by the voters on election day, it will mean money gone from Newton just as surely as though it were a state tax," Mr. Kittleson pointed out. "It is money that would otherwise help make jobs and stimulate business in the community. But under a flat rate, it would go to pay for the cost of accidents caused by drivers in other communities. Nothing could be more unfair than that."

Mr. Kittleson emphasized that the present Community Merit Rating System is based not on where accidents occur, but on who causes them.

"If passed, the flat rate scheme will cost every Newton car owner between $5.00 and $6.00 more —OWNER—

Newton's portion of the $1,200,000 goal of the Red Feather Campaign in Metropolitan Boston will be $310,000, according to Winslow H. Adams, Newton Campaign Chairman.

Oak Hill Park Women's Club

Marjorie Shepherd, who has a reputation for excellence as a dramatic reader, was guest speaker at the first meeting of the Oak Hill Park Women's Club, Wednesday. Highly successful engagements in as widely separated points as Boston and Louisville, Detroit and Manchester, Baltimore and Albany, attest to the fact that Miss Shepherd is an outstanding comedienne nationally, as well as in her native New England.

Miss Shepherd's blonde attractiveness, vitality and charm add much to the effectiveness of her programs. James B. Pond, famous lecture manager and editor of Program Magazine, recognized her ability on the occasion of a recent New York performance, when he described her as "One of the snappiest comedienne to hit the platform in a long time—she hits the stage with a big smash of laughter and never lets up on you till her program ends; her sketches are not isolated things, but one flows into the other by means of ingenious bits of informal talk that tie the entire show together."

In addition to her very full schedule of platform engagements, Miss Shepherd manages to find time to instruct classes at the Carter Dramatic School in Boston, and for a few private pupils. Her life is by no means one-sided, however, and she spends as much time as possible in her pleasant home, with her husband and small son.

Conleth S. O'Connell, 23 Kenwood avenue, Newton, and Miss Barbara Ann Sutton, 316 Highland street, West Newton, have enrolled at Marietta College for the fall semester; the office of the registrar has announced.

Newton Art Association

The Newton Art Association held its second meeting of the season at the Newtonville Public Library last Thursday evening. The guest critic, Mr. R. H. Ives Gammell, distinguished artist and President of the Guild of Boston Artists, drew a large number of appreciative members and their guests.

Mr. Gammell, with sincere, constructive criticism, not without a touch of humor, gave the group helpful and sound advice on the principles involved in painting from his point of view. The many landscapes, marines and flower studies, too numerous to mention here, indicated the seriousness of this group and the progress it has made. A few of the outstanding ones were: an impressive marine in oils by Kenneth Blodgett; Amy Jarvis' dramatic water color, Jo Barker White's skillful interpretation in watercolor, and Mrs. George Morris' very pleasing landscape, also in watercolor.

In addition, the Newton Art Association members through the courtesy of the Newton Center Woman's Club will exhibit their paintings in the Newton Center Woman's Club Headquarters for two weeks beginning Friday, October 20. Tea will be served to artists and their friends from 3:00 to 4:30 p.m. Saturday, October 21.

All are urged to come. The meeting will start promptly at 7:45 and will be held in the Newtonville Public Library.

An Event of Importance

An event of importance second only to the war in Korea is soon to take place in this country—the November general elections. And if precedent is any portent, about half the eligible voters will stay home on election day. If that happens, it will simply mean that the best organized and most aggressive minority can impose its will upon the American people. The danger becomes greater as the government becomes larger and more powerful.

Regardless of the party label of the administration, politicians will try to stay in office. As the activities of government expand, the evil of patronage expands in direct proportion. In a thousand ways pressure is brought to bear upon larger and larger groups of voters—job promises, funds for local projects, legislative favors. If a Congressman or Senator resists these abuses of trust as a matter of principle he is hooted down by the "realists."

It is easy to see why the general elections this fall are of grave importance. The vested interest in big government has reached the point where nothing but a record turnout of public spirited voters can alter the trend. There is encouraging evidence that an unprecedented effort is being made to get out the vote. Thousands of newspapers are taking part in a nationwide get-out-the-vote campaign. Retailer organizations, labor and business groups are working to stimulate interest.

Millions of Americans who bear the major tax burden of supporting government show the least interest in going to the polls. Their default is the principal reason why an aggressive minority may decide the fate of the nation in years to come.

Current Comment

Clergy and Civic Leaders Oppose Lottery ... Flat Rate Insurance a Sectional Matter ... Rent Controls Left to Local Option ...

There is a sharp difference of opinion among experienced political observers as to what the reaction of the voters is likely to be to a proposal for setting up a State lottery which will appear on the ballot as Question No. 4 in the election on November 7.

Because of the opposition of clergy and civic leaders and the potent arguments that can be advanced against the measure, the general impression in most political circles is that the referendum will be defeated.

But when a similar question was submitted to the voters in a few scattered districts some years ago, it was overwhelmingly approved.

It had no real effect at that time except as a demonstration of public sentiment and as a semi-mandate upon the Senators and Representatives in the sections where it was voted upon, and not much thought or attention was given to the issue prior to that election.

Make no mistake, however, as to the importance and significance of the question which will be acted upon three weeks from next Tuesday. The vote of the people then will have the effect of law.

If an affirmative vote prevails on Question No. 4, a State lottery will be functioning in Massachusetts next year.

The danger involved in such a lottery, as will be pointed out from pulpits and platforms between now and election day, is that people in modest and humble circumstances will gamble money they can't afford to lose in the desperate hope of realizing a windfall.

But for every person who achieves that get-rich-quick hope there will be hundreds who will see money vanish on lottery tickets that they need for food, clothing and other necessities. That's the big argument against a State lottery, and it's the reason that clergy have marched on the State House year after year to battle suggestions for having the Legislature authorize a lottery law.

Lottery Tied in With Another Referendum

The proposed State lottery has been cleverly hooked with another referendum on the ballot, Question 3, which would increase old age assistance to a minimum of $75 and to $85 for blind persons and would reduce the eligibility age from 65 to 63, and the idea behind the lottery would be to provide part or all of the funds that would be needed to finance such a liberalization of the old age assistance laws.

Of course, no one knows exactly how much money the State would make from a lottery, but it probably would be a pretty substantial sum. After operating expenses were deducted, half the money left would be paid out in prizes and the balance would be used for helping the aged, the blind and fatherless families.

It has been estimated that the changes proposed would cost the State an additional $50,000,000 a year since the federal government, which contributes part of the money paid out in old age assistance, would provide nothing for persons under 65.

Massachusetts will have to enact some new taxes to pay its old age bill if, as is quite possible, the referendum to increase the old age assistance is passed and the lottery idea is rejected.

Question 5 Concerns Flat Rate Insurance

How you stand on Question 5 on the ballot will depend on where you garage your automobile and how much you pay for your compulsory insurance on it.

In such cities as Boston, Chelsea and Revere the vote will be overwhelmingly in favor of the uniform flat rate insurance charge which this measure provides. In many of the small cities and towns—about half in the entire State where the minimum charge of $16.50 is assessed—the sentiment will be just as strongly against the issue.

There will be other communities where motorists may not be quite certain what vote will serve their own best interests because no one has advanced any definite information as to how much the flat rate for insuring a car would be.

Representative Harold W. Canavan of Revere, who is spearheading the fight to have the people of the Berkshires pay the same automobile insurance as those in Boston and Chelsea, declares it would be $28.70.

The members of the legislative committee on insurance in their report, included in the voluminous report which Secretary of State Cronin is mailing to the voters to familiarize them with the ballot questions, estimated it would be about $30.

The motorist who now pays in the vicinity of $30 doesn't stand to gain or lose much either way, and he probably won't get all excited about the row which is now starting.

That, incidentally, is one of the questions which may draw a big turnout of voters on November 7.

Local Option Regarding Rent Controls

Some persons don't realize it yet but the question of continuing rent controls will be on the ballot as a matter of local option, with each community determining what it wants to do.

That means that rent controls could be extended in Dedham and discontinued in the adjoining town of Needham for what a city or town does on that issue has no bearing at all on the action of its neighbor.

The first question on the ballot merely clarifies the provisions in the State Constitution as to what would happen if a Governor-elect were to die before assuming office. Most scholars of government think such an emergency already is provided for, but others believe a clarification is necessary.

The second question would increase the number of questions necessary to place an initiative petition on the ballot.

With the usual liquor and horse and dog racing questions to be voted upon, you can readily see that you're going to be called upon to do much more than fill a few public offices when you go to the polls November 7.

William Bothman was arrested in Mason County, Ky., on a complaint that he had collected $90 for painting Edgar L. Preston's barn but had painted only the side facing Preston's house.

Awaiting sentence for unarmed robbery in Cleveland, Prisoner Adam J. Taylor was notified by telegram that his name had been called for the $1000 bank-night prize at the Union Square Theatre and that he would be given the $10 consolation prize if he showed up the following week.

Two men going from store to store in Fort Worth, Tex., looking for window repair work, were arrested by police who had been going from store to store investigating an epidemic of broken windows.

Robert C. Stewart had a ready explanation when asked why he had failed to return to the Potter County Jail in Amarillo, Tex., back in August, 1949, when a jailer sent him out to get a morning newspaper. "He didn't tell me what one to buy," declared Stewart.

Louis Giannini admitted in Santa Fe, N. Mex., that he had sent Mrs. Pete Mateucci a postcard which read: "You are going to be a widow before long so make plans accordingly." Louis insisted, however, that he merely was trying to convey the idea that Mrs. Mateucci should take out more life insurance.

John A. Brooks was sentenced to 30 days in a Columbus, O., jail despite his explanation that he was supposed to be in Florida two days later for his scheduled induction into the army, that he didn't have the train fare to get there and was hopeful the police would send him there if he got himself arrested.

The Providence Journal printed a letter to the editor which read: "Editor: I am so damn mad I forgot what I was going to say. Jim Payne."

Charles R. Bailey was such a sensation when he grabbed a night club microphone in Truth or Consequences (formerly Hot Springs, N. Mex.) and started to sing that police discovered he was wanted in various communities for car theft, breaking and entering, burglary, carrying concealed weapons and carrying a loaded weapon on a government reservation.

A balky lion that had refused to move into his new cage at the zoo in Bloemfontein, South Africa, scrambled in hurriedly when an attendant gave his tail a hard bite. That, however, is not suggested as the wisest manner of handling lions. They might bite back.

The county draft board in Union, S. C., received a note from a registrant which read: "This is to let you know that I am married and have one child. Would have notified you sooner but hadn't noticed it until they started drafting."

John Albright's petition for U. S. citizenship was thrown out of court in San Rafael, Calif., after he testified that his reason for seeking it was that as a Canadian he pays $25 for the same fishing license which Americans get for $3.

DOCTOR IN THE HOUSE

The dollar bill is very ill and needs a doctor to instill into its veins the vigor to do all the things it ought to do. Should such a genius find out just how to do just that, he'd rate a howl from all of us who long to see the dollar as it used to be.

Your dollar still buys you real value in good food at the Snak House Delicatessen, 346 Center St. Why not try it tomorrow morning for breakfast? How about a generous portion of tender ham and fresh eggs fried in pure butter? Wash that down with a cup of real coffee and you've got the firm foundation for a good day's work. All kinds of tasty sandwiches made up for parties. Open from 7 A.M. to 6 P.M. Monday through Saturday. Breakfast served anytime from 7 A.M. to 12 noon. Auburndale and Oakhill bus stops right at the door.

"There, But For The Grace Of God, Go I"

By HARRY L. WALEN, Newton

"If, in the agricultural society of colonial America, my neighbor's barn had burned or his wife had been scalped by an Indian, I would have expected to join with other neighbors in building him a new house or taking care of his children. I would have known that 'there but for the Grace of God,' went I."

"Today our urban society is far too complex for me ever to know my neighbor, much less know his needs. Only recently I learned at our high school of the marriage of a next-door neighbor. I read in the papers or hear on the radio of individual calamities, and think, not knowing how close a neighbor the victim may be, 'There but for the Grace of God go I.'"

"How much of this feeling lies behind our desires as good neighbors to serve through the Red Cross, which alone can know the individual calamities and needs of my urban neighbors in areas of small size but vast population?"

"One cannot help but think of John Donne's great prose passage from which Ernest Hemingway culled the title for the novel, 'For Whom the Bell Tolls'. We never know for whom the bell tolls; it may be for us. Yet who knows or cares? Only slowly, through the gradual increasing drag on our local community, do we realize how many people need help, and how direly that need for help presses upon ourselves."

"The Red Cross knows for whom the bell tolls. Those of us who believe in it and give our services through it know that there but for the Grace of God go we, and we offer our services in the best tradition of the American community to help the individual innocent victims of calamity."

"The watchword of the American Red Cross might well be, 'There but for the Grace of God go I.' Far more citizens would willingly volunteer their services if they realized how fully the Red Cross can care for them in their need, and help them care for their distressed neighbors."

Right now New England has nearly 45% more electric generating capacity than was available at the beginning of World War II. By the end of next year that figure will be over 60%! Proof again that in the field of electric power, as in every other field, business management gets things done.

of Newton will remember as long as they live."

Once again steering the Halloween program from her desk in the Recreation Department, Mrs. Hovgaard released the following progress reports received from Building Chairmen:

Mrs. Thomas S. Derr, Building Chairman of the Angier School, Waban, states that close to 600 children, from kindergarten through the 6th grade, will participate in a group of separate parties running from 6 to 8:30 P.M. There will be a Victrola in every room, serving as a background accompaniment for the many kinds of games. Clowns, movies, favors, refreshments, and an eerie Chamber of Horrors for the 5th and 6th graders, plus stunts the committee refuses to disclose, will comprise the general program. Mrs. Derr announces that her Food Chairman is Mrs. C. Gale Harper, to be assisted by Mrs. Walter S. Chapin, Mrs. Darwin Neumeister and Mrs. Ralph A. Farnham, with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth W. Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. Farnham presiding at the cider table in the Chamber of Horrors.

A supplementary report from Mr. and Mrs. Loring P. Litchfield, Building Chairmen for the 8th and 9th grade parties in the Waban Neighborhood Club, with an expected attendance of around 135 boys and girls, lists the following additional chairmen: Mr. and Mrs. John Parkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Ring, Mr. and Mrs. Bromley De Meritt, Mr. and Mrs. Quentin M. Gelman, Mr. and Mrs. A. Brooks Parker, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. Harris Rowbotham, Dr. T. G. Powell will be on hand in the school as First-Aider.

According to Mr. Daniel M. Fogarty, Building Chairman, 200 students of the 7th, 8th and 9th grades, Auburndale, will enjoy a very full program of stunts at the Normandie Room, Norumbega Park. Dancing, with orchestra, games of all kinds, a variety show with children as contestants, community singing, movies, a grand march, and other jolly events will keep the young folks busy without let-up. The committee handling the party includes Mr. and Mrs. Daniel M. Fogarty, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kingston, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Fredericks, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reid, Mr. and Mrs. M. Beckwith, Mrs. Madelyn Hall, Mr. and Mrs. James Glaser, Mrs. Arthur Frechette, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Grinspoon, Mr. and Mrs. Cushing Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Hatch, and Mr. and Mrs. George Pierce.

The Williams School, Auburndale, party, in which over 325 boys and girls of grades 1 through 6 are expected to participate, is being planned by a committee headed by Mr. and Mrs. William C. Schneider, as Building Chairmen. A piano and saxophone will provide music for the parade and singing; prizes will be awarded to all the children; and to round out a splendid program there will be a magician, movies, a Chamber of Horrors, and the usual refreshments. In addition to Mr. and Mrs. Schneider, assisting Chairmen are: Music and Parade, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hall; Refreshments, Mrs. Elizabeth Knapp; Decorations, Mr. and Mrs. William Medlicott; Chamber of Horrors, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Higgins; First Aid Room, Dr. and Mrs. Edgar Holmes; Tickets, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Boucher; Judges for Parade, Rev. and Mrs. Sydney Adams and Rev. and Mrs. Chauncey Blossom. and Mrs. John Dynes, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Monroe and Mrs. Richard Crane; Grade 5, Mr. and Mrs. Payson Lowell, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Beecher, Dr. and Mrs. Albert Fallon and Prof. and Mrs. William Brown.

The Cabot School parties for kindergartners through sixth graders will be highlighted by a magician, movies, clever games and a costume parade, with a piano providing background music, according to Mrs. Sidney Wish, building chairman. Assisting her in the direction of the parties are Mrs. L. D. Bernheimer, chairman of Room Mothers, and Mrs. Sidney Morrison, refreshments chairman, in addition to those previously reported.

Almost 600 boys and girls of the Weeks Junior High School, Newton Centre, are to attend the jollifications which are rumored to be something exceptional. The program, to quote Alva M. Dow Jr., building chairman, will "commence with a half hour vaudeville show, the acts to be performed by the students, themselves. After that a feature movie will be shown. There will also be dancing, games, television and a Chamber of Horrors, besides stunts about which the committee is being very secretive. Prizes, it is said, will be awarded both at the games and the dance. The committee members who are helping Mr. Dow in shaping up an outstanding affair include: Mrs. Thomas H. Peterson, Carl Liddy, Arnold Canner, Mr. and Mrs. George Peters, Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Nizel, Mrs. Otis Stephenson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred I. Huss, Mrs. A. Howard Myers, Mrs. Irving Rose, Charles Goldman, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Frail, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Walsh, Mrs. Charles Cobb, Harold Orth, Mrs. Harvey J. Lucier, John H. Flynn, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dorrance, Mrs. John Spaulding, Mrs. Henry Hudson, Norman H. MacConnell, Wilson Colvin and Mrs. Halloran.

Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Rosenthal, building chairman of the parties for the Mason School, Newton Centre, 4th, 5th and 6th graders, report that around 300 students will participate in a celebration replete with rollicking doings of every imaginable kind. There will be no dancing, but a Victrola will supply music throughout the party-period which runs from 6:30 to 8:30. Games, singing, movies, grab bags, and what not, will make any idle moment something impossible to find, inasmuch as the committee has planned a program which is exceedingly full. Prizes will be given in competitive games, and each child present will receive a gift. Members of the committee are: Mrs. Harold Brown, Mrs. Albert Cooper, Mrs. Marjorie Nadell, Mrs. G. Wheeler, Mrs. A. Kahn, Mrs. Manuel Goldberg, Mrs. Joseph Gann, Mrs. Harry Ehrlich, Mr. and Mrs. Charney, Mr. and Mrs. Israel Kravet, Mrs. Esther Natoli, Mrs. Anna Shuman, Mr. and Mrs. R. Feldman, Mrs. John Patterson, Mrs. Clarence Hutchings, Mrs. Maxwell Cohen, Mrs. Beaudin, Mrs. Meisner, C. Hassler Capron, Mrs. Nathan Robbins, Mrs. Edward Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Kasok.

As reported by Mrs. Charles Segel, building chairman, and Mrs. Henry M. Ferrick, co-chairman, there will be a special afternoon party at the Burr School, Auburndale, for kindergartners, which will begin at 2:30 and will run until 3:30. About 70 tots will be on hand; and a delightful program of games has been planned. There will be prizes awarded for costumes; and the party will end with the refreshments that always, in young folks' minds, constitute the big moment of any party.

of the group's activities and program. He stated there are 100 actual members ranging from 7-21 years with another 50 who need help. Each year presents different problems; stealing, girls and now cars. Some boys have graduated from the group and are now assisting Mr. Byrne. The focus of the N. Y. O. has not been merely recreation but rather bringing out the needs of the boys and getting rid of the problems; getting the families behind the boys and enlisting their help.

Mr. Pray, chairman of the N. Y. O. advisory committee, stated that it was the hope of the committee to use existing agencies for these boys and not to set up a new organization.

The motion was made and unanimously passed that: the chairman appoint a committee of 5; 1, to have the agencies talk over the problem with the possibility of expanding own programs or use of different techniques; 2, to see what can be done on a permanent basis and even in several areas; 3, to coordinate and expand work of N. Y. O. and Nonantum Citizen-ship Club with a long-range program for the city.

Another motion was unanimously passed that: a resolution be written in the record expressing thanks and appreciation to Bill Byrne for his fine work and causing us to look into this problem. The resolution, which has also been approved by the Governing Board of the Community Council reads as follows:

Whereas Mr. William E. Byrne, when called upon to organize the youth of the Newton Corner area in activities of a more positive nature, responded with enthusiasm, energy and intelligence, and seeing the need for encouraging these boys to participate in the activities of already existing groups, established the Newton Youth Organization in February 1949, and Whereas the work of the Newton Youth Organization has been a continuing and growing enterprise, now serving over one hundred boys, and many leaders of the Newton community recognize that Mr. Byrne has established a technique and a pattern for making youth services available to all, and Whereas Mr. Byrne has shown unusual ability as a worker with boys and has given most generously of himself, and has brought to our attention the need for looking into the youth situation on a city-wide basis, Be It Resolved that the members of the Newton Community Council express to him our thanks and appreciation for his meritorious services and the hope that his good work will continue and furthermore Be It Resolved that this resolution be spread on the records of the Newton Community Council and a copy of said resolution be sent to Mr. Byrne.

The committee agreed to meet again November 15 at the Red Cross Chapter House.

Emergency transportation to evacuate some 200 "victims" of the "disaster" was sent to the scene in the face of "rapidly advancing flames." Immediately established at the Frank A. Day Junior High School was a Red Cross center to care for the "homeless" and offer them safety from the havoc. At the site of the "disaster," meanwhile, the Cabot School was utilized as field headquarters where emergency medical assistance was rendered.

The administration of all these activities took place at the Red Cross Chapter House at 21 Foster street, Newtonville, where, should an emergency actually occur, major decision would be made and personnel would be assigned and public information released.

The Red Cross Disaster Committee, headed by Riley J. Hampton, worked closely with Chapter Chairman Maxwell P. Gaddis, and the chapter's director, Miss Mar-porie Phelon.

Mrs. Winslow H. Adams was Auburndale representative, and Mrs. Allen P. Joslin of Newton, Mrs. Warren G. Hill, Newtonville, Mrs. Lewis M. Hurxthal and Mrs. Frank P. Foster of West Newton, Mrs. Fred B. Lund, Jr., and Mrs. Rhoda Chase, Newton Centre, and Mrs. William Merrill White of Waban, represented their communities at the October 10 morning coffee at the temporary headquarters of the Museum of Science which kicked-off the Museum's membership campaign.

Herter's Campaign for Re-election Based on His Expert Knowledge

Congressman Christian A. Herter, generally regarded as one of Washington's foremost experts on international problems, today launched his campaign for re-election to another term from the 10th Congressional District.

Herter two years ago was selected by Collier's magazine as the Congressman who in the previous year had made the greatest contribution in public service to his country.

In addition to achieving that notable distinction, Congressman Herter has attracted considerable attention by holding clinics at which he meets with his constituents and discusses any problems of a federal nature which may be troubling them.

He has maintained offices in both Boston and Washington to serve the people of his congressional district, and he goes into his present campaign with a reputation, built over the past several years, for providing an exceptionally high standard of service and representation.

His supporters, who include Democrats as well as Republicans, in urging his re-election, stress that his broad understanding and grasp of international affairs will be needed in the critical years ahead.

Congressman Herter himself, in offering his candidacy to the voters of his district, expressed the opinion that he can be of real service to them and to his country during the next two years.

"These are critical times in Washington," he said, "with the future peace and security of our country and its people at stake in much that we do. Never has there been a time when a greater need existed for a thorough understanding of the grave dangers that confront us as a nation and as a people."

"All other problems are overshadowed when the question of our national freedom and security is involved," Herter stated.

He expressed regret that the demands upon his time in Washington have been such in recent months that he has been unable to get back to his district as of-each year for his compulsory automobile insurance. For this reason, if for no other, he said, "the interests of Newton will be best served by defeat of the flat rate scheme at the polls on Election Day, November 7."

"But make no mistake about it," he warned. "To beat this thing, you've got to vote yourself, see that your family votes No. on Question No. 5. Otherwise, the high raters are going to put this unfair scheme over on you. There are a lot of them, and they're going to vote to take your money away from you."

"Massachusetts is the only state which now has compulsory automobile insurance," Mr. Kittleson pointed out, "but all the other states use the same method of setting rates for this kind of insurance. In Massachusetts, however, the State Insurance Commissioner, not the companies, sets the amount of the rates. And the State Insurance Commissioner, not the companies, adopted the present Community Merit Rating Plan for setting rates by cities and towns."

"Of course, only accidents for which its drivers are responsible are charged against a town. For example, if a Revere driver injures a pedestrian in Newton, Revere, not Newton, is charged with the accident. The Insurance Commissioner of Massachusetts sets the rates, based on this accident information."

"Some months back, a bill was introduced in the Legislature, by interested parties, to set one uniform insurance rate for the whole state. This was the flat rate scheme. Because only 21 of the towns now paying a high rate under the Community Merit Rating System would profit from this measure, and 330 towns would suffer, the bill was defeated in both the Senate and the House. Nevertheless, supporters of the measure, by gathering 25,000 signatures on an initiative petition were able to place the issue on the ballot."

"If it is passed, the flat rate scheme would set a rate of at least $30.00, more likely $32.00 or $33.00, for the entire state. This means that every Newton driver, who now pays only $27.10 for insurance, would pay up to $6.00 more a year. It would also mean that every driver in a high-rated community like Revere would pay less. In effect, this means Newton drivers would be paying for the reckless driving of Revere drivers."

"It also means that up to $110,000 in higher insurance premiums will be taken from the pockets of our approximately 22,000 car-owning citizens as our share of the $4,500,000 and more that the high raters are trying to gouge out of the rest of the state."

"But there is another and far more important danger in the flat rate scheme. It will almost certainly result in more accidents, by destroying one of the incentives that communities now have to reduce accidents among their drivers."

"Accident prevention starts at the community level, and is always more effective at the community level because communities control the factors that make for safer driving—proper traffic education, proper traffic controls, adequate police and strict enforcement of traffic ordinances, etc.," Mr. Kittleson said.

"Newton has already proved that rates can be lowered this way, the right way. Our 1950 rate of $27.10 compares with $28.30 in 1948. Under the present plan, we can continue to drive it lower and at the same time make Newton a safer place to live, help Newton drivers to avoid accidents."

"This fight against the flat rate will not be easy," Mr. Kittleson declared. "A large number of voters from a relatively small number of communities will gain financially if the flat rate succeeds. Therefore, we who will lose must Vote No on Question No. 5 November 7. Otherwise we are voting to tax ourselves $110,000 from which we can receive no possible benefit."

The new director comes to Newton from five years service as nutritionist with the New York State Department of Public Health. A graduate of the University of Maine, where she majored in foods and nutrition, she served her dietetic internship at Rochester General Hospital, Rochester, New York.

Miss Nancy Cummings of 315 Otis street, West Newton, has returned for the second year of the two-year course at the Nursery Training School of Boston. She expects to receive a Certificate in June, 1951. She will be trained as a teacher of preschool children, nursery through kindergarten age.

Safety Practices Among Children Pays Dividends

Accidents Leading Cause Of Death Among Children

Speaking at the Safety Services program at the Book-Cadillac Hotel, Detroit, Alfred W. Cantwell, national administrator of the American Red Cross Safety Services, said that accidents, now a fourth leading cause of death among children after infancy, present one of the most serious threats to the nation's welfare and happiness.

"Although great strides have been made in reducing hazardous conditions through engineering," he said, "the major cause of accidents—human failure—has not yet been overcome. The Red Cross believes that one of the most successful approaches to safety is through education."

Mr. Cantwell pointed out that safety education can be especially effective among children by teaching early in life a personal responsibility not only for themselves but for others. In accordance with these facts and the safety instruction frequently requested by schools, the Red Cross Accident Prevention guides and workbooks called Suggested Guides for Safety Instruction have been developed for use in elementary schools. The Junior Accident Prevention course using the new First Aid Textbook for Juniors, has increased interest in safety education in schools.

Included in this issue of the Graphic is the first in a series of Red Cross instructional material designed to teach children rules of safety, at school, on the street, in the home, and at play. Here is an opportunity to begin your child's training in accident prevention. Study the instructions carefully. Impress upon each learner the objectives of the lesson, discuss the topics with

Take Every Precaution

Protect Your Children From Accidents and Harm

Are you taking every precaution to protect the safety of your children? The National Safety Council says that one out of three accidental deaths due to poisonings is a child less than five years old. One out of three deaths due to burns, explosions, and fires, is a child less than five years old. One third of all deaths to children under five years are due to burns, explosions, and fires. One fourth of all deaths to children under five are due to mechanical suffocation.

These startling facts indicate the need of more concentration on eliminating the causes of these accidents to children under five. The responsibility lies with the parents of children in this age group, who are either too young to know better or who have not been taught safety precautions.

You should always keep in mind that:

Victims of fatal poisoning accidents are most often children under five. Poisonous substances, in kitchen and bathroom, be- lieved either in locked cabinets or up high out of tot's reach. Even "harmless" headache tablets can be fatal in large doses. Children have also been poisoned by drinking kerosene and similar liquids improperly stored.

One out of five deaths due to burns is a child under five. Teach your child the danger of him, and let him do the hand- work. Illustrated copies of the lessons may be obtained from the Newton Red Cross, 21 Foster street, Newtonville.

bonfires and matches. Burn rubbish in a wire mesh basket. Watch leaf fires until they die.

And, as much as possible, keep tots out of the kitchen and laundry when you work. Think up some game or task to keep them busy when you are. When meals are being prepared, a toddler should not be in the kitchen unless he has been set in his play pen or high chair.

Guns, if kept in the house at all, should be put away unloaded and under lock and key. Simple rule: Treat every gun as though it were loaded.

Blunt edged scissors help prevent accidents. Teach children to walk carefully with sharp knives, drinking glasses, etc. Wrap broken china and old razor blades, and dispose of them where children cannot get at them. Stuffed toys should have stitched eyes, no pins or buttons, which can be swallowed.

Guard your tot from a perilous climb and see that screens are fastened securely, too, with the screening nailed tightly to the screen frame.

The main thing we keep driving at all the time is the youngsters' safety," said Mr. Frank M. Simmons, director of health, physical education and safety in the Newton public schools in giving an overall picture of the Newton school system's safety program to the Newton Graphic for its Safety Campaign. Safety patrols are the primary means of enlisting the services of the children themselves in establishing safety practices among their classmates and 'helping' in the traffic of school children at street crossings, he said.

The safety patrols work with the women police officers. Four or five hundred children serve during the year, directing traffic and showing others the proper manner of crossing a street. Each patrol has a captain, lieutenants and faculty supervisor in every school.

Mr. Simmons works with the police department and street department in getting the stop walks in proper places and seeing that the children walk in them. Officer McEneny, of the Newton Police Department, spends all his time working in the school department. He is often seen piloting children across streets, and with Mr. Huston, of the school department, he goes to each school, checking the patrols, the methods used, and helping in all the traffic and safety problems. Each school, of course, has its own particular safety problems, such as bicycles and children who live on main thoroughfares, and is mainly responsible for solving them.

Maps of the city and all the streets feeding into a particular school are taken to the schools, and correct or safest routes for students to follow are traced out. An effort is made to get the pupils to come down a certain route, where there is a copperette located. A miniature traffic light is taken to elementary schools, and lights are explained so that children will make safe crossings where no patrol is located.

Mr. Murphy from the Department of Motor Vehicles goes through the elementary and junior high schools each year, talking to students about safety on the highway. Eventually this work will also be done in the high school, Mr. Simmons hopes.

Many schools belong to the National Safety Council, getting the safety magazine and posters supplied by the Council. Lessons are built around the posters at the different grade levels.

A bicycle program is run, in an effort to get students to register bicycles and keep them in good repair. Safety is taught as it applies to the divergent sports, in physical education classes and as it relates to health—safety in relation to the pupil's own safety. In the lower grades questions such as "Do you use somebody else's tooth brush?" and "What not?" are asked the pupils.

Practical, everyday safety devices are worked into all subjects in the elementary grades, and safety is brought into the youngsters' play as well as their study. They are taught to look for hazards around the schools, being asked incidental questions such as "What do you want to look for?" when broken glass is seen, and "What do you do with matches you find?" There is no formal class in safety, but children are definitely instructed in safety precautions. They are taught to report such hazards found around the schools as broken glass and broken mail- ings, etc.

Much time is spent on home safety. "Where do you leave your doll carriage, ball, etc., instead of leaving them where mother, father or other members of the family can fall over them?" the youngsters are asked. Drill is given on where to leave toys.

Home safety is stressed in relation to fires. Lt. Clark from the Fire Department works in the schools and talks about fire safety in the home. Fire prevention teaching is made around the clock, throughout the year. Rather than being confined to one week of fire prevention advertising.

At the junior high level an effort is made to introduce safety material into health, mathematics, science and other classes, although no special course is given in safety. The principle underlying this procedure is that safety can be more effectively taught as an integral part of the student's entire education. All safety education is dovetailed into this integrated training, and an effort is made to cover the entire safety picture.

Mr. Simmons goes to P. T. A. meetings to discuss safety with the parents. In order that the safety education in the schools may be really effective, the co-operation of the parents is essential so that wrong attitudes and example in the home may not counteract correct habits established in school.

"We have had very good results from this P. T. A. work," says Mr. Simmons. "There has been excellent cooperation from children, parents, and teachers in the whole safety program."

Atlanta Papers Ration Space For Advertisers

ATLANTA, Oct. 12.—The rationing of advertising space on the basis of a 20 per cent cutback on 1949 linage was announced to retail accounts by the Atlanta Journal and Atlanta Constitution here this week.

The reduction of available advertising space is also being extended at the same rate to general and classified advertising, a spokesman for the combined daily papers stated.

Although the rationing was limited to the month of October in the announcement, no relief in the form of additional newspaper is in sight and the policy will be continued on a month-to-month basis as long as the shortage exists, the spokesman made known.

Retailers will be limited to 80 per cent of their total linage used in October, 1949, according to individual accounts with the two papers. Space in the combined Atlanta Journal and Atlanta Constitution Sunday papers will be rationed on the basis of the space formerly used in the Sunday Atlanta Journal alone. It was stated.

Those retailers who used "special sections" in 1949 will be allowed to do so under the rationing plan, with the same 20 per cent reduction in linage, or they may use the space in the regular papers with the same cut, it was stated.

Miss Marilyn Scheller, daughter of Mrs. Felix Scheller of 37 Kenmore street, Newton Centre, has returned to Bouve-Boston School for her senior year in physical therapy. She is doing clinical practice work at the Liberty Mutual Rehabilitation Center in Boston. It was announced recently that Miss Scheller was named on the Dean's list for her previous semester's work.

You're A Safe Driver

Road Safety Calls For Alertness At The Wheel

Do you consider yourself a safe driver? If not, here is an opportunity to check some of the causes of accidents which have shown an increase in the past year and may sooner or later involve you. If you feel you are a good driver, why not find out whether or not you are operating your car correctly or getting by just through luck.

In its Safety Campaign, The Graphic is not trying to arouse interest in correcting an imaginary situation. It has checked with police records, which reveal that there was in 1949 an increase over the number of accidents occurring in the previous year. In 1948 the city of Newton had no enviable reputation in accident prevention. The only conclusion to be reached is that every Newton citizen needs to be enlisted in an aggressive campaign to help cut down accidents and make Newton a safer place in which to live. Only as every resident seeks to improve his own driving through carefulness and better familiarity with driving regulations, can Newton be a place where outsiders will be on their toes to be better drivers because they will otherwise be spotted immediately.

In 1948 there was a total of 338 accidents in Newton; in 1949 a total of 355. This means an increase of 17 accidents last year. Although improvements are revealed in certain months, a marked increase in accidents is shown in the last four months of the year, which does not bode well for this year.

The total number of injured for 1948 was 525, whereas in 1949 there were 539 more injured, with a total of 549. Fatalities for both years was five, far too many in any case. Passengers seem to fare badly in accidents. In 1948 and 1949 there were, respectively, 222 and 221 involved. Fewer pedestrians were in accidents last year, with 106, showing a decrease of 33.

All this is evidence enough that Newton needs to become more safety conscious.

The fact that more outsiders than residents were given traffic tickets, including warning and court cards, in Newton may seem to be encouraging. Last year 3429 warnings were given Newton residents and 8061 to non-residents. Residents called into court numbered 238, non-residents 616. Total warnings were 11,490, court summons 854. Yet the percentage of non-residents passing through this city is greater than the number of residents, so that Newtonites can really put no feathers in their caps. However, some may claim that more frequent traveling around the streets of Newton by residents may equalize the time spent there by each. In any case, the number of accidents must be lessened if Newton is to take its place among the cities of the United States which are showing progress in the important field of accident prevention.

The Police Department is initiating a program designed to cut down the number of accidents caused by jay walking. This is a worthy endeavor and is backed 100 per cent by The Graphic. A former resident of Newton recently spent nine months in Columbia, South Carolina, where jay walkers are fined five dollars for violating the regulations, in order to prevent people from crossing streets except at intersections. At first she unconcernedly crossed the street whenever she felt inclined. Upon learning that a fine was attached to such crossing if discovered by the authorities, she immediately began to mend her ways and became quite proficient at waiting for the lights to turn red, and refrained from crossing the street whenever she wanted to be on the other side.

This was good training. The habits formed held over until she arrived in Philadelphia where such regulations were not in effect. It seemed quite improper to see people jay walking. But after a period of initiation into old customs, by the time she came back to Boston, Newton and vicinity, she was well established in bad habits again. The point is that such a program enforcing safe street crossing, trains people to be careful. It will help materially in lowering the number of accidents now chalked up to the people of Newton.

High on the list of traffic rule offenses are high speed, operating motor vehicles under the influence of liquor, failure to conform to directions on traffic signs, parking violations, failure to slow down when view is obstructed, stopping and entering, and operating to endanger lives. Those who are regular traffic violators are more familiar with infringements made upon regulations, but all drivers need to acquaint themselves with the minor offenses, which, added up for a whole year, present a formidable array of reasons for accidents.

Although you may not have been "caught" for doing any of these things, what is your score in eliminating them completely from your driving practice?

You know that passing at an intersection, failing to slow down at an intersection, failure to stop for police officers in uniform, leaving the scene after causing personal or property damage, operating through pedestrian lights, and operating to left of the center of the road are all mistakes you would never make. In fact, a child would know better than to make any of them. Would you merit the unwanted attention of a police officer by parking within 25 feet of an intersection, parking without the right wheel to the curb, failing to conform to traffic signals at all times?

First cause of accidents is carelessness. The frequent driver is apt to feel that since he has had no accidents in the past, he will have none in the future. He takes chances, feeling confident that the driver of the other car will react the same way the one did when he last took a chance. But what the other person does is very unpredictable. Someone else takes a chance and turns out of a driveway without looking in both directions. Another driver turns off the main highway onto an unnoticeable road without putting out his hand. The result? An accident, unless you are just lucky enough to have good brakes or are quick enough in your reaction to swerve out of the way quickly.

Chief Philip Purcell and the entire police department is trying to cut down traffic accidents. Join it by starting a campaign of your own to improve your own efficiency and caution. With everyone cooperating, the accident rate will be lowered.

Who Runs America?

the Congress?

the President?

OR YOU AND THE MAN NEXT DOOR?

RUNNING AMERICA is the joint job of 150,000,000 people. It's the biggest job in the world today—keeping it running for liberty and for freedom. And the whole world's watching to see whether Americans can do it!

IN MUCH OF THE WORLD today, the people have resigned from running their own countries. Others have been quick to step in—first with promises of "security"—and then with whips and guns—to run things their way. The evidence is on every front page in the world, every day.

FREEDOM COMES UNDER ATTACK. The reality of war has made every American think hard about the things he's willing to work and fight for—and freedom leads the list.

But that freedom has been attacked here recently—just as it has been attacked in other parts of the world. One of the most serious threats to individual freedom has been the threat of Government-dominated Compulsory Health Insurance, falsely presented as a new guarantee of health "security" for everybody.

THE PEOPLE WEIGH THE FACTS. In the American manner, the people studied the case for Socialized Medicine—and the case against it.

They found that Government domination of the people's medical affairs under Compulsory Health Insurance means lower standards of medical care, higher payroll taxes, loss of incentive, damage to research, penalties for the provident, rewards for the improvident.

They found that no country on earth can surpass America's leadership in medical care and progress. They found that able doctors, teachers, nurses and scientists—working in laboratories where Science, not Politics, is master—are blazing dramatic new trails to health for Americans—and for the world.

THE "GRASS ROOTS" SIGNALS CONGRESS. In every community in the Nation, people stood up to be counted on this important issue. Thousands of local women's clubs, civic groups, farm, business, religious, taxpayer, medical, educational and patriotic organizations spoke out—giving the great United States Congress its unmistakable Grass Roots signal from home!

And ever watchful, ever sensitive to an alert people, The Congress saw that signal, and heard the people speak out, loud and plain. That's democracy in action. That's the American way!

Today among the 10,000 great organizations on militant public record against "Compulsory Health Insurance" are:

General Federation of Women's Clubs
American Farm Bureau Federation
National Grange
Veterans of Foreign Wars
National Conference of Catholic Charities
American Protestant Hospital Association

American Legion
National Association of Small Business Men
United States Chamber of Commerce
National Association of Retail Grocers
National Retail Dry Goods Association
American Bar Association

Endorse Graphic Safety Campaign!

EMERGENCIES
DON'T WAIT!

Heed the National Safety Council! Every 3 seconds an accident happens to someone! Think of it! Every 3 seconds!

Check Your Home Safety Conditions:

1. Securely screen or protect all windows so no one can fall through?
2. "Skid-proof" or tack down all small rugs?
3. Use a sturdy step-ladder, to reach high places, instead of an unsafe substitute (box, stool)?
4. Keep all tools, kitchen utensils, toys, and clothes in definite places when they are not in use?
5. Arrange furniture so no one will fall over it in the dark or when in a hurry?
6. Avoid having any "trailing" electric cords that may cause someone to trip and fall?

GASES AND POISONS ARE VERY USEFUL in our daily lives but can be vicious killers. Do you keep them under control by:

7. Clearly labeling all household poisons (insect sprays, disinfectants) and medicines (sleeping tablets, antiseptics) and storing them out of the reach of children?
8. Reading and carefully following directions when using the contents of bottles, jars and cans of foods, and medicines?
9. Keeping a window open slightly, top and bottom, in the room where a gas heater or stove is in use?
10. Having pilot lights and connections on gas stoves and heaters checked and kept in good repair?

FIRE AND BURNS constantly claim a heavy toll in human lives and cause painful scarring. Do you protect your family by:

11. Allowing no one to smoke in bed?
12. Keeping religious or decorative table candles away from walls, curtains, and other decorations?
13. Keeping matches in covered metal containers and out of the reach of small children?
14. Refusing to buy or use cleaning fluids unless they are labeled NON-flammable or NON-inflammable?

HAVE YOU REMOVED OTHER HAZARDS from your home, such as:

15. Frayed electric cords or electric equipment in need of repair?
16. Knives, scissors and sharp tools that have been left about or stored carelessly, or are within the reach of small children?
17. Flower boxes and other objects on window ledges?
18. Loaded firearms or war trophies that have not been deactivated (made incapable of firing)?
19. Objects piled carelessly on closet shelves so they may fall and strike anyone opening the door?
20. An old fashioned can opener which leaves sharp, jagged edges that may cause severe cuts?

Newton High Drops Its First, 14-7, to Brockton

After coming from behind a 7-0 count in the last few remaining minutes of the fourth period to knot the score, the Newton High Tigers fell before a Brockton High passing attack with only a minute to go, dropping their first game of the season at Dickinson Stadium last Saturday afternoon, 14-7, before a hometown crowd of 5000.

Bob Shannon rose to the occasion by snatching a 20-yard aerial from Fred Dauten on the four yard line to drive over for the Orange's first T.D., followed by Dauten's conversion to make it 7-7.

Brockton tallied first in the second period when halfback Emanuel Lenoci returned a Newton kick from the 44 to the local's 48. In six plays the visitors put the oval over, Sonny Prosper totting the ball for 13 yards on the initial play. A pass from Phil O'Connell to Ed Moberg gave Brockton a first on the Newton 27, continuing a march that never stalled. A five yard gain through the middle by Lenoci, followed by another pigskin from O'Connell put the pigskin on the Newton four. Finding the Hostonen's defenses down, O'Connell did a repeat through the air, this time finding Prosper on a jump pass for their first touchdown. The point after was executed by Chensaukas.

Until the final period the Orange failed to click on the offense and come up with a touchdown combination. Both clubs were evenly matched in almost every department, with Brockton having the edge in the air, their two tallies, the result of p-sses.

In the third period the visitors threatened to push across another six-pointer when they moved down to the shadows of the goal posts. An interception of a Dick Fitzpatrick pass at mid-field by Lou Marchegiano brought the ball to the Newton 10 where guard Barkey Boole brought the carrier down. In three line frontal attacks Brockton could only realize five yards as the sturdy Orange line held the ball changing possession when a pass from O'Connell failed to connect for a T.D.

Taking over on their own 20, after holding off further enemy advance, Newton geared into their touchdown trek, ending in the tallying pass from Dauten to Shannon. A first down was registered on the 38 on a pass from John Tripp to Dave Harber. A fake punt by Shannon after 3 successive line plunges netted Newton another first, followed up with a neat flat pass from quarterback Fitzpatrick to Bob Morrison, with Dan Coffey taking a lateral, resulted in a gain of 20 yards and another first on the Brockton 29.

Another pass, of the running vintage, moved the oval to the 20 from where the Orange set up operations for their final push.

Newton To Play Host To Water'wn

With a season's record of two wins and one loss the Newton High Tigers will play host to an experienced Class B Watertown eleven this Saturday afternoon.

This encounter will mark a renewal of football activities for these two high schools after a year's interruption. Watertown has two victories to its credit, but is not the power it was last year when it went undefeated until losing to Class A champion, Arlington High.

Coach, Warren Huston will be forced to reshuffle his starting lineup for this game, owing to injuries to a few of his starters, Bob Whelan and Barkey Boole among the most prominent.

Fleet Bob Shannon and Fred Dauten are expected to spark the Tigers to their third victory of the season and keep the Orange up in the Class A ratings.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The next meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club will be held October 17 at 2:30 p. m. This is bank day under the general leadership of Mr. Irving O. Palmer. Guests are welcome.

After the business meeting, music will be furnished by a trio of club members, Mrs. Kenneth Bernard, Mrs. William Fish, Mrs. William Ferrin, with Mrs. Richard Wright, accompanist.

Dr. Herbert Gezork will speak on the "United States and the Current International Scene." Dr. Gezork is a world traveler, having had appointments from the War Department and has been in Germany this past summer for the Department of State. His lecture will be of great interest and importance.

This is to be followed by a tea. Mrs. Ernest O. Moers, Mrs. J. W. Shouler, Mrs. Charles Shipp will pour.

Also, there will be an exhibit of antique glass which has been collected by club members.

The art committee has announced a trip to Sturbridge Village on October 18th.

Fall Tasks Can Be Made Much Lighter

John M. Walker, president of the Home Specialties Co., Inc., says "The nippy weather these fall mornings is a reminder that now is the time to order heavy suits and coats from storage. It should be a reminder, too, of another important household task to be done before cold weather arrives in earnest. That's the job of taking down canvas awnings and storing them for the winter season."

It's an excellent idea to have a canvas awning firm, The Home Specialties Co., look after your storage, for in the firm's shop, awnings are inspected carefully and reinstalled in the spring.

Our Lady's Murphy Stars In 19-6 Brookline Rout

In its first scheduled game in the Catholic League, Division 2, powered Our Lady's High of Newton, champions of Division 3 last year, romped over St. Mary's High of Brookline, 19-6, last Sunday afternoon at Tech Field, Brookline, to start Coach Jim Sullivan's well-drilled eleven off to another successful season.

Emerging as the day's all-round star was bruising Don Murphy, 180-pound fullback, and all-Catholic back, who scored twice while making his mark as a fine blocker and intercepting a number of passes.

The Purple and Gold presented almost insurmountable scoring obstacle to the Saints by registering all their T.D.'s in the first half. In the final play of the first period hard-driving Bill Cronin went six yards for the first Our Lady's six-pointer, scooting around on an end sweep. Late in the second period Dick Butler took the oval away from St. Mary's Gerry Ridge on his own 35 while he was trying a line buck. Butler racing all the way to the three before being brought down. Assisting in this piece of grand larceny was Murphy who took out a Brookline back while Butler sprinted down the sideline.

Charles O. Richter Gives Talk to Davis School PTA

"The Role of the Principal in the Modern School" was the subject of Charles O. Richter, Assistant to the Superintendent of Schools, who was the guest speaker for the season's first meeting of the Davis School Parent Teachers' Association in West Newton this week.

Mr. Richter outlined the Newton School Department's philosophy in relation to the role of the principal. The basic thought being that the principal is a local superintendent with local autonomy. The three functions of the principal are: Leadership; a teacher of teachers; Service; to make all kinds of materials available to teachers; Support; to protect and support teachers who initiate any new approaches to teaching.

Francis A. Tanner, the outgoing principal, was one of the honored guests of the evening and was presented with a beautifully inscribed combination desk set for his new desk at the Oak Hill Memorial School. The new principal, Miss Mary J. Nugent was then introduced to the members and she in turn presented her teaching staff to the parents. The two guests were aptly presented by Fred Fessenden, Program Chairman, with the Hawaiian greeting "Aloha."

The meeting was conducted by Dr. Allen Sherman, president of the Association. Reports of various committee chairmen and officers were given and plans for the coming year were presented. Refreshments during the social hour were in charge of Mrs. Dana Sprague, hospitality chairman, assisted by Mrs. Cornelius Roggeven.

Next Wednesday marks the opening of a new Star Market in the fascinating Chestnut Hill shopping development... the latest "star" in that glorious galaxy of renowned retail stores which have transformed a bleak landscape into a beautiful and architecturally-impressive neighborhood.

Recognizing the need of a supermarket to round out the many types of merchandise already available, the founders of this shopping center specifically chose the Star Market for its progressiveness and unparalleled services, and because they knew it would, at the same time, reflect the tone, distinction and quality-mindedness so typical of famous business concerns which have selected this convenient location as their suburban home-site.

The new Star Market is spacious, airy, flooded with light from its broad windows and, artificially by the latest streamlined fluorescent lighting equipment. In fact, throughout the store every modern piece of equipment has been installed which could possibly add to efficiency of operation and to the pleasure and convenience of customers. For instance there is advance-design refrigeration, a recent scientific development to keep all foods at their very peak of quality. Of special interest to hurried shoppers is the very new mechanical, conveyor-belt checkout stands, which cut precious moments from checking time. And every woman will agree that the magic-carpet exit door is a tremendous boon. Simply stepping on the "carpet" opens the door wide and keeps it open until the customer is on her way—and all the while she has her two hands for holding bundles.

Every thought has been given to the store's atmosphere, which is achieved through many tangible, as well as intangible, factors. To mention only one, there is the interior color scheme—daffodil yellows, valley greens and warm beiges. Restful, unobtrusive, with a comfortable homelike appearance, these colors induce calm, leisurely shopping and serve as an excellent background for the thousands of items displayed.

In commenting on the store in general, Stephen P. Mugar, president of the Star Markets, said: "Thousands of people have learned to expect so much from Star, that we're leaving nothing undone to make this new store 'just right.' We owe that to every customer we've ever had,

Miss Althea Madeline Thomas Marries Mr. David M. Sanborn

Cibotium ferns, white gladioli and white chrysanthemums decorated the chancel of the Second Church in Newton, West Newton, Saturday afternoon, October 7, for the wedding of Miss Althea Madeline Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Thomas of West Newton, and Mr. David Moore Sanborn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sanborn of Natick. Tall candelabra held white tapers for the 4 o'clock candlelight ceremony performed by the Reverend Robert Clyde Yarbrough, and a reception followed in the church parlor.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white Skinner satin, fashioned on princess lines. The fitted bodice had an off-the-shoulder neckline with a yoke of illusion and a deep circular bertha of Chantilly lace over satin. Ruffles of matching lace cascaded from the waistline to the tip of the circular cathedral train. Her finger-tip veil of illusion was caught with orange blossoms to a satin laced bonnet sprinkled with tiny seed pearls, and she carried a shower arrangement of white roses and stephanotis.

Her cousin, Miss Barbara B. Stone of West Newton, was the maid of honor. Her gown of sage green taffeta had a pointed, fitted bodice with an off-the-shoulder fichu neckline and a bouffant skirt. With it she wore gold slippers and gold mesh mitts and carried a bouquet of golden yellow chrysanthemums and dusky rose pom poms with variegated ivy to match her headpiece. The bridesmaids were Miss Muriel E. Danker and Miss Barbara Billings of West Newton. Their gowns of rose-fuchsia taffeta were fashioned like those of the maid of honor, and they wore silver accessories and carried shower bouquets of dusty-rose chrysanthemums and white pom poms.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Thomas wore a gown of spruceberry blue lace over taffeta with gloves of frosted pink to match her hat which had a fuchsia-tipped ostrich feather. Her corsage was of fuchsia and white camellias. Mrs. Sanborn, the bridegroom's mother, was gowning in gray crepe with a black hat trimmed with black feathers and a touch of coral. She wore a corsage of coral camellias.

Mr. Richard A. Sanborn of Natick was his brother's best man. The ushers headed by Robert A. Heald of South Natick, included Mr. James G. Chandler and Mr. John A. Lamiet of West Newton, and Mr. Edwin W. Wlodyska of Framingham.

The bride was graduated from Lasell Junior College with the class of 1947. The bridegroom served two years in the U. S.

Fourteen Polio Cases To Sept. 20

There have been fourteen cases of polio in Newton thus far this year, according to the Health Department, the last one being reported September 20. However, one Newton resident contracted the non-paralytic form of the disease at Onset.

Massachusetts as a whole reported 186 polio cases for the month of September, which is 416 cases less than September, 1949. The nation reports 18,403 cases for the disease year, which is 11,947 cases less than last year.

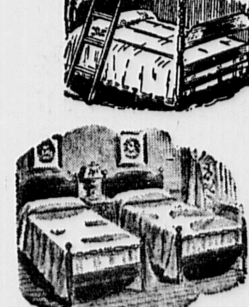

Although a decline in the nation as a whole has not begun, the prevalence of cases has dropped off in Massachusetts. If the trend continues, it may be possible to resume tonsillectomies shortly after the middle of October.

Everett A. Golway To Speak

"Red Cross Faces the Future" to Be Subject of Talk at Annual Meeting

The Annual Dinner Meeting of the Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, will be held Monday evening at 6:30 in the Normandie Room at Norumbega Park. The meeting is open to all members of Red Cross.

The principal speaker will be Everett A. Golway, who served throughout the war years as assistant to the executive vice president, American National Red Cross. His topic will be "Red Cross Faces the Future".

An interesting highlight will be a report by Riley J. Hampton, Chairman of the Disaster Committee, on the disaster drill held in Newton last Saturday morning. There will also be a brief report on Junior Red Cross activities by Dan Lewin of the Newton High School Junior Red Cross Council, and a timely exhibition of Red Cross Services will be on display.

The committee handling arrangements for the meeting is headed by Mrs. Ralph Keyes, chairman, assisted by Mrs. E. Graham Bates and Mrs. Susan Wright.

EVERETT A. GOLWAY

Hearing Monday on Parking

A public hearing will be held Monday evening by the Board of Aldermen at its meeting for the purpose of considering taking of land on the east side of Cypress street, Newton Centre, for the establishment of an off-street parking area.

The proposed taking of land is the result of need to provide more parking space at the Centre business district.

Shortages Expected to Disappear

Temporary local shortages of building materials are expected to disappear within the next few weeks, and the supply during the next year should be sufficient to meet all demands, according to Roy S. Edwards, President of Roy S. Edwards Inc. and member of the Public Affairs Committee of the National Retail Lumber Dealers Association.

"Because of freight car shortage and the unprecedented volume of building throughout the country, cement, rock, lath, doors and roof shingles have been in short supply during recent weeks, but most materials are being produced at record rates and the supply promises to catch up with demand in a short time," Mr. Edwards said.

Women Voters Opposed to Lottery

The League of Women Voters is calling to the attention of every voter the evils and dangers inherent in Question No. 4 that will appear on the ballot in November, i.e., the proposal to establish a State Lottery.

The proposal calls for the establishment of a Lottery Commission whose members would be paid $500-$600 plus expenses, with the power to employ an unlimited number of assistants who would not be subject to civil service. The Commission would be empowered to hold a lottery once a month and tickets would sell for not more than $1.00.

After expenses (unlimited) are deducted from gross receipts, the net receipts would be divided as follows: 50 percent for prizes, 35 percent for assistance to the aged; 7 1/2 percent for dependent children; 7 1/2 percent for the needy blind.

It is apparent from the above that even if every man, woman, and child buys as many as $60 worth of tickets a year, there would be little money left for the assistance of the aged, the needy blind, and dependent children after the enormous costs and prizes are paid.

For many years the League has opposed a State Lottery as an undesirable and unsound method of raising revenues. If passed, this proposal would automatically become law (not subject to Governor's veto). The League urges that everyone vote No on Question No. 4 on election day, November 7.

Miss Dorothy Corkum of 1970 Beacon street, Waban, a graduate of Dana Hall, has begun her freshman year at Simmons College. Miss Corkum was active in the Glee, Photography, Science and Outing Clubs, as well as the chorus while at Dana Hall.

F. Brittain Kennedy Is Given Award

The annual meeting of Region One, Boy Scouts of America, was concluded September 30 with the presentation of the Silver Antelope Award to F. Brittain Kennedy, former president of Norumbega Council, and three other New England Scout officials.

The announcement of the awards highlighted the closing banquet of the two-day meeting, held at the Worcester Memorial Auditorium in Worcester. The Silver Antelope award is the highest regional award that can be bestowed upon a volunteer Scoutmaster by the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America, and is granted to those who have rendered exceptionally distinguished service to boyhood. Mr. Kennedy is at present a member of the National Council and a member of the Executive Committee of Norumbega Council.

Robert S. Judd of New Haven was chairman of the committee which presented the awards.

Night Time Danger Time For Driving

In continuation of October's program of traffic safety education, Chief Philip Purcell of the Newton Police Department has stated that Darkness and Death go hand-in-hand.

"In the back of the mind of practically every motorist," Chief Purcell said, "lies the knowledge that nighttime is the time to drive carefully. Unfortunately, this small voice of common sense is neither sufficiently loud nor persistent to save thousands of thoughtless and careless motorists each year."

Chief Purcell cited the 17,500 traffic fatalities that occurred in the United States after sun down in 1949 as proof of darkness' deadliness.

"Although this figure represents an increase over the number of persons killed in daylight accidents during the year," he said, "the really significant factor lies in the fact that the United States Bureau of Public Roads estimates from their studies that only 31 per cent of the country's driving is done during the hours of darkness. This would indicate that the nighttime death rate is about three times the day rate."

The Chief listed the following hazards as factors in the high toll of night traffic accidents:

1. Reduced visibility.
2. The difference between what is a safe speed at night and what is a safe speed for ordinary daylight driving.
3. Fatigue.
4. Drinking drivers.
5. Failure of pedestrians to comprehend that approaching motorists cannot see them as rapidly nor as clearly as the walker can see the car.

"Let us heed the advice of our Registry of Motor Vehicles," the Chief concluded, "Slow Down At Sun Down."

Memorial Gifts Aid Children

Instead of sending flowers to the memorial service for Mary Rickard Winsor, founder of the Winsor School, who died recently, friends have sent memorial gifts to the Boston Guild for the Hard of Hearing, a Red Feather agency. Miss Winsor herself was hard of hearing.

This money will be used for hard of hearing children to train them for better hearing and increase their ability to speak. It will be added to a fund which is gradually accumulating to further expand this much needed work for children in Metropolitan Boston.

These children know what it is not to hear the noise of an automobile horn, a fire engine, or their family's voices. They Twenty-five years ago, in September, the Sisters of St. Ann opened their school in the parish of St. Jean the Evangelist Church whose pastor is the Rev. Syllo W. Barrette. Their order was founded near Montreal 100 years before by Mother Mary Ann, whose purpose it was to teach and help the poor classes in city districts. They have grown rapidly from the four founding sisters who comprised the original community a century ago, in Vaudreuil, P.Q., to the present group of 2,027 members, with 110 schools and convents in the world.

Sunday morning, at 9:30, a procession will proceed from the school to the church, led by marshals Louis Rousseau and Martial Jrechette. They will be followed by a color guard of Boy Scouts and a delegation of school children in caps and gowns. Next in line will be a delegation of the alumni association, followed by a delegation of the parishioners, and 50 nuns, former teachers of the school.

Newton Lagging in Salvation Army Fund Campaign Drive

Kenneth E. Prior, Newton General Chairman of the Salvation Army's Greater Boston appeal for funds, states that although Newton got off to a fast start, the total of contributions received to date is less than expected.

"We're not discouraged, however," said Mr. Prior, "to find that the total donated, so far, is not what it should be at this stage of the drive. I believe we're just going through a temporary lag, due to any number of logical reasons, and that when we actually get into the home stretch, contributions will speed up. Every drive for funds goes into a brief slump, somewhere along the line, but then it pulls out of it, and the goal rapidly

TO MARRIED PERSONS:

Will Half Your Estate be TAX FREE?

It depends to a large extent on how your will is drawn and how your life insurance is arranged.

A "Marital Deduction" may save your estate a substantial sum in taxes. But unless your property is distributed in a manner set forth under the provisions of the Federal Estate Tax Law your estate won't get this deduction.

Check your property arrangements with your lawyer. He can tell you whether they will entitle your estate to a "Marital Deduction."

Members of PTA Council Tour New Williams School Building

Members of the Newton PTA Council, representing 21 school PTAs, were welcomed by George F. Koller, president, at the first open meeting of the year, held in the new Williams School. In explaining the make-up of the Council, he emphasized the work accomplished by the various committees, and he urged all delegates present to affiliate themselves with some specific phase of Council activity. "We carry on our work through study," said Mr. Koller, "and in this way gain an understanding of what the school department is doing for the children of Newton."

Highlight of the evening was a tour, conducted by Harold B. Gores, Superintendent of Schools, through the new school, which tied in perfectly with report of progress given by Mark Stone, chairman of the Building Committee. Mr. Stone gave detailed accounts of the status of new construction and school additions now under way or slated to start in the near future. "All in all," he said, "our committee is satisfied with the way construction is going ahead and if this school is an example of what we can expect throughout the city, we can hardly wait!"

Mrs. Hazel Stratton, secretary of the Newton Federation of Teachers, explained the eight questions which will appear on the ballot this November, and said that detailed discussions will be sent to each PTA president.

The Federation also showed a film, "Fight for Better Schools," which is available for use by any Newton group interested in better educational facilities.

Mr. Koller announced the appointment of two chairmen, Dr. Frank L. Shipp, who will head the committee on Health and Safety; and Mrs. Arthur W. Johnson whose Hospitality Committee served delicious refreshments. He also asked Benjamin Beresen to head a group to investigate the possibility of using the Boston Skating Club for Newton school children one or two afternoons a week during the season. Mr. Beresen will be assisted by E. Leslie Robart and R. Leigh Fitzgerald.

Mrs. Marcel D. Chartrand of 214 Upland road, Newtonville, returned home recently from New York City, where she completed a course of instruction preparing her to represent Welcome Wagon, Inc. as Hostess in this city.

Hospital—

adopt the extremes of Western styles.

Dr. Mijer is particularly pleased at the many opportunities that our local hospital affords for training in practical matters. "In Holland," he says, "we are very fortunate if we get an appointment in a clinic where we study under the direction of an established doctor. But these men are reluctant to let us do things for ourselves and as a result too much time passes before we are allowed to do even the most simple procedures. The emphasis leans very heavily on theory, but I have always wanted a chance to make practical application of what I was learning. Here I not only can, but am expected to do the things that I will be called on to do when I enter practice in my own country. It is really quite exciting to a young doctor to work directly with the patients in a great hospital like your own."

Of course many of the large teaching hospitals in the greater Boston area have foreign students; indeed their presence in these hospitals has become a matter of course. But it is unusual for a suburban hospital, where the major emphasis is more on patient care than on a formal teaching program to have students from overseas. At the Newton-Wellesley Hospital, as elsewhere in this country, internes and residents alike carry on their duties under the guidance and supervision of the heads of the departments of the hospital medical staff. They can always call on the wider knowledge and experience of their superiors, but a conscious effort is made to encourage them to stand on their own feet and arrive at their own medical opinions. As a safeguard to the patient's well-being, each case under the care of the interne or resident is subject to review by the responsible department head and his advice is immediately sought in every case where the slightest question of doubt may arise.

By helping to train young physicians for their life work in their own countries, the Newton-Wellesley Hospital feels that in some small way it may be contributing to that kind of understanding of American principles that we wanted to foster under the Marshall Plan.

Rogers, chairman, Auditing Division; Harry M. Carey, executive director, United Community Services of Metropolitan Boston; and H. J. Pettengill, executive director, Newton Community Chest.

There will be special tables for presidents and treasurers of Newton Red Feather agencies, and for their wives or husbands; for Newton Red Feather executives and their staffs; for members of the board of directors of the Newton Community Chest and of the Newton Red Feather Agencies. The Residential Division will sit at tables reserved by villages, and those working in other divisions will have special tables reserved for them.

The campaign will run from October 22 to November 9. The overall goal of the campaign this year is $7,000,000, and Newton's share of this goal is $310,000.

The thirteen Red Feather services, member agencies of the Newton Community Chest, are: Newton-Wellesley Hospital, Family Service Bureau, Newton Y.M.C.A., Newton District Nursing Association, Norumbega Council Boy Scouts, Newton Local Council Girl Scouts, Society of St. Vincent de Paul, Newton Conferences, Rebecca Pomroy House, West Newton Community Centre, Newton Community Council, All Newton Music School, Newton Nutrition Center, and Stone Institute.

Drive—

draws nearer. I'm sure, before another week is out, that I'll be able to report marked improvement. Boston headquarters reports that several communities are already over the top, and that others are getting very close to their quotas. As I'm convinced Newton will be very shortly.

"At all events, I'm as optimistic about exceeding our quota of $23,000, as I was at the beginning of the drive. Newton has never yet let the Salvation Army down. And I predict that when the final returns are in, we Newton people will take pride in proving once more that we are always ready to give the 'Army' the wholehearted support it so richly deserves."

experience great joy therefore when they for the first time hear music and voices through amplified sound at the Guild and later are helped through hearing aids and speech work to become a part of a hearing world.

On receipt of these gifts the Board of Directors decided to use this money for a children's program, being mindful of Mary Pickard Winsor's two life interests, namely, education of youth, for which she was nationally known, and assistance in the development of work for the hard of hearing.

Let Us Pause and Pray

People in Newton and throughout the civilized world, will demonstrate next Tuesday that the gloomy tales about the "passing away" of the United Nations are not only premature but utterly unrealistic.

It is true that the past few months have brought an unparalleled crisis and it looked more than once as though the United Nations would be unable to pull through. True, the emergency is not yet over. But it is equally true that these past months have made it plain that the United Nations is more than a debating society. The United Nations has done a good deal, in fact much more than people realize, to improve social, educational, economic and health conditions in many of its member nations. The U. N. has also settled differences which threatened to flare into war. But never before was the United Nations called upon to raise an army in order to defend an invaded country against aggression.

But in the end the free nations have proved that they can stand together and fight together. They have proved that they understand the main principle of the United Nations which is mutual aid and co-operation to make the world really safe, not only for democracy but for all nations and every individual regardless of political ideology and physical strength.

Mayor Lockwood has called attention to the people of Newton the meaning of United Nations Day in a proclamation and the proposal that all bells in the city ring out Tuesday morning.

This makes celebration of the United Nations Day an inspiration. Let us all pause when the bells ring Tuesday and pray for the peace of the world.

The Cost and the Cloth

In a recent survey on taxes the Opinion Research Corporation arrived at some pertinent facts. Here they are.

86 percent of the people interviewed felt that spending should be cut before taxes are raised.

54 percent agreed that high taxes discourage investors from risking their money and companies from expanding.

70 percent believed that general government expenses should be reduced.

89 percent were surprised and shocked to learn that hidden taxes on a 15 cent loaf of bread totaled 5 cents, and that taxes on a $2,000 car amount to about $500.

There is nothing academic about the tax issue today. Higher Federal income taxes went into effect October 1. It is widely forecast that this—in the light of soaring military budgets—is only the beginning and that higher taxes still will be imposed on both individuals and corporations. Yet, in the face of that, the pressure for unnecessary domestic spending is unabated. Those who want socialized business, British-type social security, socialized medicine, and all the other alien projects, are still in the running.

At best, the burden of remobilization will be enormous and debilitating. If, on top of this, unbridled domestic spending continues, the result could be ruinous. It could lead to uncontrollable inflation and an impossible drain on the manpower and industrial capacities of the nation. In the name of survival, the government must be forced to cut its cost to fit its cloth.

Current Comment

Can Democrats Retain Control of Legislature? . . . Republicans Wondering Where Admiral Denfeld Stands . . . Will Dewey Change His Mind? . . . What About General Eisenhower?

Regardless of the outcome of the gubernatorial battle between Governor Dever and former Lieutenant Governor Coolidge, it appears rather unlikely at this stage of the campaign that the Democrats can retain the control of the State Legislature which they won two years ago.

There appears to be no prospect whatever of a repetition of the Democratic tidal wave which swept across the State on election day in 1948, and it would take a sweep almost as great to assure another Democratic Legislature.

Even though Mr. Dever is successful in his quest for reelection to a second term on Beacon Hill, the present trend of the political trade winds would indicate that there is slim possibility that he will be able to carry another Democratic Legislature along with him.

Ordinarily the Democrats would be fairly well positioned for their fight to maintain their advantage in the Legislature because a man holding a minor office usually has the edge over the candidate seeking to oust him from it, though there are, of course, exceptions to that rule.

But the legislative and congressional districts in Massachusetts have been so devised that the Republicans can lose the fights at the head of their State ticket and still elect a majority of the members of both Congress and the State Legislature.

Visitors to Massachusetts constantly express amazement that this could be so, but it is a political fact, and, of course, exactly what has happened upon occasions in the past.

The explanation is, to put it politely, that over the years the Republican politicians have protected their own interests. In political verbiage they have gerrymandered the districts to entrench their own position.

That's one of the reasons the present struggle for control of the Legislature looms so important and is arousing so much interest.

If Governor Dever is reelected and the Democrats gain control of the two branches of the Legislature, they will, needless to say, execute a gerrymander of their own, a prospect that would be rather grim for the Republicans.

It would mean a revision of both legislative and congressional districts, and it would mean that some of the present Republican congressmen and legislators would be gerrymandered right out of office.

This is one case where the Republicans are fighting a rear guard, delaying action because even if a G.O.P. Governor and Legislature were elected they would probably leave things pretty much as they are, mostly because there isn't much they could do that hasn't already been done.

Where Does Admiral Denfeld Stand

Republican politicians are wondering whether Admiral Louis E. Denfeld will take the stump for former Lieutenant Governor Coolidge in the current gubernatorial campaign.

On primary night Denfeld extended his congratulations to Coolidge in brief and terse form and hasn't been heard from since, apparently retiring to the seclusion of private life.

One after another, the other unsuccessful candidates for the Republican nomination for Governor—Clarence A. Barnes, General Daniel Needham, Judge Frankland W. L. Miles and former State Senator Edward M. Rowe—have stepped up to declare themselves for Coolidge and to pledge him their support.

So far the former naval chief of operations as far as we are aware has made no such pronouncement. It will be interesting to see whether he breaks his silence and takes a stand on the fight for the Governorship.

Dewey Could Change His Mind Again

From a national standpoint the biggest political news of the past few days was the announcement by Governor Dewey that he will not be a candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination in 1952 and his declaration on behalf of General Eisenhower.

Governor Dewey has changed his mind before. In fact, he changed it a few weeks ago after previously withdrawing as a candidate for reelection, and quite conceivably he could change it again in 1952 if there should be any demand that he run again.

But it is rather unlikely that Dewey would be urged to carry the Republican banner into a third Presidential campaign, after two successive defeats, and it is even less likely that any concerted effort will be made to induce him to run if he shows a desire not to do so.

Whether General Eisenhower would like to be President is something that probably he only really knows. Certainly, he has been very wary about saying anything which could be construed as making him a candidate. He might have had the G.O.P. nomination in 1948 if he had been willing to accept it.

Persons who know Eisenhower say that he would not seek a Presidential nomination, that he would accept it only if it were handed to him on a silver platter and that he would run only if he were drafted.

If that is still the general's attitude in 1952, you can just about discount him as a Presidential possibility except under the most unusual circumstances because candidates just aren't drafted for the Presidency except in their own imagination and when they themselves inspire it.

To anyone who sat in on the 1948 Republican national convention the suggestion that Eisenhower might be drafted against his will as the next G.O.P. candidate for President seems pretty absurd.

Senator Vandenberg faded out of the 1948 picture pretty rapidly when he was unwilling to make any positive statement, and any man who sits back and waits to be drafted while other contenders are campaigning, clamoring, bidding and fighting for votes, is very likely to be still waiting when the issue has been settled.

Two boys who snatched a purse containing 20 cents in Denver were captured following a six-block chase by 23 policemen and 10 citizens.

William Ward confessed to setting fire to a Chicago apartment house, explaining that he had done so in the hope of seeing his estranged girl friend as she ran from the building. That was what you might call a round-about way of accomplishing his objective.

A charge of drunken driving against Abdullah ben Ibrahim was changed to reckless driving when he proved his sobriety by walking on his hands around the police station in Bloomfield Hills, Mich.

A drunkenness charge against George Shirley was dismissed by Judge Frank P. Anzellotti in a Youngstown, O., court, when it was admitted that Shirley had been sober enough to spell the name of his home town, Punxsutawney, Pa.

Edgar Fred Whitaker was arrested by FBI agents in Cincinnati on a charge of robbery and jail-breaking while standing in the Federal Building looking at his own picture among the "wanted" posters.

Landlady Lettie Rogers claimed in a lawsuit in Knoxville, Tenn., that Roamer Corer Bailey was 244 weeks behind in his rent.

Think twice today when you buy a truck!

THAT new truck you're considering may have to last a long time. So you'll be wise to look at a GMC for these important reasons:

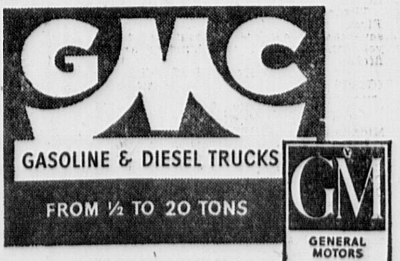

GMC's are built by the world's largest exclusive manufacturer of commercial vehicles—with the broadest truck engineering experience.

GMC's are real trucks. Engine, transmission and frame, as well as cab and axles, are all specially truck-built to give you longer service.

GMC truck-built engines have high horsepower with higher sustained torque—greater pulling power. They are built to give extra years of service with less maintenance.

GMC extra-value features include Synchro-Mesh transmission, Tocco-hardened crankshaft, full-pressure lubrication, recirculating ball-bearing steering gear, air-plane-type bearings and Lifetime Weather-sealed cabs as standard equipment on practically all models from 1/2 ton up.

That's why more truckers are buying GMC's today than ever before—experience proves them best in the long haul!

Our Lady's in Easy 44-6 Win Over Columbus

Still on the rampage and looking like the class of the Catholic League Division 2 circuit, Our Lady's High racked up its fourth win of the season, and its second in league competition by lambasting a small Christopher Columbus squad, 44-6, last Sunday afternoon at Allison Park.

Two touchdowns apiece were registered by George Pettee and Bill Cronin, and Coach Jim Sullivan's ace fullback, Don Murphy, turned in another fine performance on the field and scoring a six-pointer.

The Columbians dropped their third straight for their not too brilliant season, and managed to ground out one T.D. against the strong Our Lady's eleven. This came on a 27-yard pass from Charlie Doherty to Tom Gannon with only four minutes remaining in the last period.

Petee opened the scoring spree in the first quarter, when on the third Our Lady's play, the big lead from Natick rushed over for 13 yards for the first tally.

After a return by Murphy of a Columbus punt, Bill Bertrand passed to Ray MacLean for 27 yards and a second T.D. On the 13-yard stripe later in the romp, Murphy, who with the help of Cronin paved the way for the third tally, bruised to the 10. Two penalties against the visitors moved the oval to the one from where Cronin bucked over.

Resistance was hardly negligible during the rest of the game and the locals scored almost at will, or on the whim of Coach Sullivan. Our Lady's registered a brace of touchdowns in each quarter except for only one in the last, when Sullivan probably felt the margin was sufficient to put on the grammar school students.

Newton High to Face Strong Arlington Squad

Taking a record of two victories and two defeats with them, the Newton High football squad will journey to Arlington this Saturday afternoon to meet one of the youngest teams in the Class A bracket, and winners of "A" honors last year.

One loss, that to Waltham High a few weeks ago, is all that mars the Red Raiders' present record. Injuries still plague Coach Warren Huston's eleven and the services of some of his top boys are in doubt.

Arlington will, without doubt, be the strongest opposition yet faced by the Orange and the further problem of revamping the Newton line will make things a bit more Arlington-sided.

Newton Loses in Last Period to Watertown

A last period surge by a well-drilled and offensive-minded Watertown High football squad, in which they pushed across 20 points, resulted in Newton High's second defeat of the season, going down 32-13 in a thrill-packed game played at Dickinson Stadium last Saturday afternoon.

Coach Joe Zino of Watertown, a mentor to be reckoned with in any grid circle, saw his team trail at the end of the third quarter, but instilled them with enough inspiration for three T.D.'s in the final to turn a close match into a rout. Aiding the Arsenal Towners in their romp were a combination of fumbles and injuries of Newton gridmen. Loss of possession because of fumbles paved the way for four of the Watertown touchdowns, and one intercepted pass gave them their fifth.

For the Orange cause of the grim afternoon, Bob Shannon and Fred Dauten both turned in some admirable work. Shannon carried on one occasion a distance of 46 yards for a six-pointer in the third period, and Dauten kicked the point to give Newton a 13-12 margin. Up to that juncture the outcome looked to be a close one, but no one expected the devastating assault by the team from across the river. The absence of such key men as guard Barney Boole and right end Dick Whelan, both out on previous game injuries, and the later disability of rugged back Dan Coffey with a head injury, combined to make the Newton cause practically hopeless.

A Newton fumble made Watertown's first tally possible. Recovering on their own 25, they went the distance in a dozen plays. Sparking this march was a pass from ace quarterback Jim Lopez, who passed to end Paul Stackpole for a 12-yard gain.

Leading by one touchdown, the Zino-coached team made it double in spades at the start of the second period, again taking over on an Orange fumble. Dick Fitzpatrick lost the oval on the Newton 45 which was recovered by Watertown. Five plays later they had the ball over, the first attempt a 14-yard toss from Lopez to halfback Tom McCarthy. Advancing to the 12 on a trap play the Towners were halted by an entrenched Orange line for the next three plays. Then Lopez unleashed the winner to Stackpole to the Newton three-yard line from where McCarthy barreled over, making it Watertown 12, Newton 0.

On the kickoff the Hustonmen ground out a total of 70 yards for their first T.D. Returning the kick to the 30. In nine plays they pushed the oval over, a 16-yard run by Lee Carder and two completed passes the main features. On the Watertown 27, Dauten tossed to Bob Morrison in the flats, who lateraled to Fitzpatrick and Dick got to the one-yard line. From this vantage point Dauten tallied on a quarterback sneak, but the point was missed.

Newton ran the second half kickoff to the 42, and runs by Shannon and Tripp set them down on the Watertown 48. Two successive tries through the line failed to net the Orangemen anything, but on the next play Shannon, one of Huston's top backs, took a pitchout and circle left end to race 46 yards for the local's second touchdown. Newton pulled out ahead when Dauten split the uprights, to make it 13-12, Newton.

Newton put up a gallant struggle during the last period and her defenses were effective, but time and wear-and-tear on the weak line began to tell, and the Towners exploded for three straight T.D.'s.

publican cause, financially and otherwise.

In a letter to his workers Williams outlined the purpose and scope of the campaign. The drive is designed to raise funds and get out the Republican vote, and towards this end Williams appealed to workers to conduct a door-to-door campaign to urge Republicans to go to the polls Nov. 7 and to obtain a contribution for the GOP cause wherever possible.

He pointed out that unless a Republican Legislature is elected the Democrats will re-district out of existence at least four Republican Congressmen, including Christian A. Herter who faces a hard fight against Francis X. Hurley.

The campaign was organized by Frederic B. Eastman of Newtonville. Chairman Williams is being assisted by Mrs. William H. McAdams of Newton, Eastman and Mrs. Helen M. Finnegan, secretary.

Ward chairmen include David Black, Joseph Cosman, Martin P. Edman, Herbert P. Smith, Ernest G. Angevine, William A. Medlicott, Henry W. Keyes and Charles E. Dearing, 2nd.

A special gifts section will be handled by the Women's Division augmented by a corps of Republican men. Among the women active in this division are Mrs. F. Marsena Butts, Mrs. Donald L. Gibbs, Mrs. William R. Matson, Mrs. William H. McAdams, Mrs. Robert M. P. Kennard, Mrs. John B. Stetson and Miss Grace Weston.

The Advisory committee for the campaign is composed of John Amicangoli, Edward L. Bigelow, Charles R. Cabot, Wilfred Chagnon, Ralph Cohn, Roy S. Edwards, Albert P. Everts, Charles B. Floyd, Donald L. Gibbs, Riley J. Hampton, Joseph B. Jamieson, F. Brittain Kennedy, Philip A. Kerrivan, Theodore R. Lockwood, Kenneth S. May, George Neitlich, Robert M. Robbins, Mrs. John D. Stetson, Thomas J. Vassalotti, Louis Van N. Washburn and Mrs. Henry Whitmore, Jr.

The Republican City Committee met Tuesday night at the Funnell Club in Newton to plan for the campaign. Williams spoke to the gathering, explaining the organization and urging every member to work for victory in November.

 12. Keeping religious or decorative table candles away from walls, curtains, and other decorations?
 13. Keeping matches in covered metal containers and out of the reach of small children?

Halloween Dance Scheduled For Senior High Students

Nearly 200 Senior High School boys and girls are expected to attend a dance on Halloween at the Totem Pole Ballroom, which has been made available to them through the courtesy of Mr. Thomas Gill, owner of Norumbega Park, in Auburn, Maine, according to Martin Aronson, Chairman of the student committee which is planning the affair. Baron Hugo and his popular orchestra will provide the music, and a student entertainment is being considered. Assisting Martin Aronson in working out details are the following chairmen: Robert Blackington, ticket committee; George Higgins, transportation; Leonard Barber, entertainment; Helen Angino, publicity; and Jane Munroe, chaperone committee; other committee members include Marina Moskow, Jerome Sheffer, Patricia Packard, Jole oBurne, Kelly Huss, Bebra Harvey, David DeVicque and Richard Farragher.

Mrs. Ragna Hovgaard, Program Chairman of Newton's huge Halloween celebration, during which more than 10,000 school children of all ages will participate in 240 separate parties, states that the following reports of progress have been received from committee planning parties: Mr. and Mrs. Mark J. Winsor, Building Chairman for the 9th grade party to be held in the Newton Highlands Congregation; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Balos, Building Chairman for the 4th, 5th and 6th grade Underwood School party, state that 150 will attend. An unusually gay program has been planned by the following committee: Scheduling, Mr. Simpson; Prizes, Mrs. Simpson; Spook House, Mr. and Mrs. Currier; Music and Drama, Mrs. Smith; Games, Mrs. Latona; First Aid, Mrs. Henry Ziegel; Refreshments, Mrs. Charles Kimball; Movies, Frank Harrigan; and the Master of Ceremonies is to be Kenneth Gleason.

Costume parades, with prizes awarded, games, movies, magic and a "Hall of Horrors," will be the fare served the pupils of the Peirce School, West Newton, reports E. V. Hickey, Building Chairman. More than 180 boys and girls, from kindergarten through 6th graders, will participate in separate parties, running from 6:30 to 8:30 P.M. Committee chairmen planning the festivities are Mrs. Theodore A. Potter, Dr. Francis E. MacDonough, Mrs. Henry C. Blake, Rev. and Mrs. Henry C. Wolk, John F. Taplin, Mrs. Edward V. Hickey, Joseph Skinner and Mrs. Robert A. Budington. Home Room Mothers are Mrs. Donald E. Bowen, Mrs. Lewis M. Hurrethal, Mrs. Bernard F. Eames, Mrs. Francis E. MacDonough, Mrs. Ernest O. Seyfarth, Mrs. Frank N. Akkan, Mrs. Kenneth M. Anderson, Mrs. Frank B. Maher, Mrs. Edwin W. Folsom, Mrs. Gertrude B. Hume.

The Franklin School, West Newton, will be the scene of one of the larger Halloween parties. According to Mrs. Nathaniel S. Richardson, over 400 1st to 6th graders will be on hand to enjoy a program consisting of a gala costume parade, with prizes, movies, and jolly events too numerous to list. Besides Mrs. Richardson, the committee includes the following home room chairmen: Grade 1, Mrs. Howard Aucoin, Mrs. Arthur Connelly, Mrs. Arthur Sisson; Grade 2, Mrs. William Paul, Mrs. Alvin Dougal, Mrs. Walter Anderson; Grade 3, Mrs. Stanton Barclay, Mrs. Ernest Carlson, Mrs. Walter Smith; Grade 4, Mrs. Joseph Vaccarello, Mrs. Walter Hussey; Grade 5, Mrs. Denson Satterfield, Mrs. George Smith; Grade 6, Mrs. Nathan Kaplan, Mrs. Elbert H. Miller. The members of the Men's Committee are: Messrs. Hussey, Paul, Drago, Becker, Carlson, Satterfield, Jepson, Barclay and Halliday. Judges are Mrs. Robert Perkins, Mrs. Joseph Barras and Mrs. James Sawyer; and the First Aider is Mrs. Katherine Sherman.

The Union Church party, Waban, for the 7th grade boys and girls, will begin at 7:30 and end at 9:30, state Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Green, Building Chairmen. Square dancing, with capable Bill Dunkel calling, will be an outstanding feature; in addition, games are scheduled, also a Midway that will be notable for its variety and interest. The latter is being planned by Mrs. C. J. Duncan Mtrs. Fred Nye, Mrs. Wendell P. Hiltabrand, Mrs. Kenneth L. Libbey and Mrs. Magnus I. Smedal. In charge of games will be Mrs. John Van Brunt and Mr. and Mrs. James F. O'Neill; assisting Bill Dunkel in the square dancing will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blount; and refreshments will be handled by Mrs. Peter Williams, Mrs. Kervin Goldman and Mrs. Henry A. Plimpton.

Mrs. Samuel H. Epstein, Building Chairman for the John Ward School gatherings, Newton Centre expects an attendance of 200 pupils of the first through sixth grades. There will be a dance for the sixth graders, and extremely entertaining and carefully-planned activities for all grades. In charge of the room programs is Mrs. Mark Stone; Mrs. Isidor Slotnick and Mrs. Maurice Evans are taking care of refreshments; and the program assistants are Mrs. David J. Cohen and Mark Stone.

Mr. Alva M. Dow, Jr., Building Chairman of the huge Weeks Jr. High School party, announces that a special committee is hard at work devising spine-chillers for the Chamber of Horrors. This group includes besides Mr. Dow, George Peters, Charles M. Goldman, Fred I. Huss, Carl Liddy, Arnold Canner, Harold Orth, Donald Frail, Mr. and Mrs. John Kelso, John H. Flynn and Edward Walsh. In addition, there will be dancing, with music by Louis Haffermehl and his orchestra, games and vaudeville. Working with an exceptional degree of co-operation, the committees for the party are turning out "something special" for the boys and girls. Referring to this co-operation, Mr. Dow says that "Mr. Colvin is doing a wonderful job in placing the facilities of the school at the disposal of the various committees, in lining up those who can and will assist with the party, and organizing the student end of the program. A lot of enthusiasm has developed at the school for this party, and the students are taking a very active part in all committee activities... helping in ways that should insure the success of the party."

Another Chamber of Horrors committee is planning a most original and clever "Chamber" for grades 5 and 6 of the Angier School. Waban reports Mrs. Thomas Derr and Mrs. Morrill P. Mims, Building Chairmen. The committee comprises Hardy Prentice, Gale Harper, John Carven, Frank Jerome, Walter Collins, Bert Arnold, George Wile and Henry Harwood. Others who are offering to help in one capacity or another are James Coleman, Gordon Miller, Samuel Ferguson, Philip Frieze, Arthur Homer, Carl Bradford and Fritz Borgman. As the 160 children pass through the Chamber of Horrors they will be revived, at the precipitous exit, by a cup of cider" is the reassuring word of the chairmen.

David C. Kellaway, airman, U.S.N., of 299 Elliot street, Newton, recently began a 28-week course of instruction at the Aviation Electronics Technician-Electronicsman School at the U. S. Naval Air Technical Training Center, Memphis, Tenn. Kellaway entered the Naval service February 9, 1946.

New Turkish Government Directing Policy Toward People, Says Dr. Birge

Dr. J. Kingsley Birge, who will speak Sunday at the Central Congregational Church of Newtonville before the Suffolk West Association of Congregational Christian Churches, states that "the new government of the Democratic Party in Turkey, in power since June of this year, is directing its policy toward a fuller realization of government for and by the people. Dr. Birge is associated with the American Board of Foreign Missions in Istanbul, Turkey, and is a recognized authority on English-Turkish literature, Turkish history and language.

DR. J. KINGSLEY BIRGE

As head of the American Board of Publication Department in Istanbul, Dr. Birge, this year, saw the completion and publication of a revision of the famous Redhouse English-Turkish Dictionary after 12 years of work. This volume, enlarged and modernized, now includes modern idioms and some 100,000 definitions.

"The work of the American Board in school, hospital and publication activities is appreciated by the Turkish government and the people as a valuable contribution in good will toward the building of the young Republic whose past has been in the East but whose face is now set steadfastly toward the West," continued Dr. Birge.

Born in Connecticut and a graduate of Yale University, Hartford Seminary and Kennedy School of Missions, Dr. Birge first went to the Near East under the American Board in 1914. He returned to the U.S.A. and served during part of World War I with the Y.M.C.A., and then in 1923 became Candidate Secretary for the American Board.

In 1927 he returned to Turkey and made his headquarters at Istanbul. Although he spent the major part of his time in Turkey, he has also worked in Lebanon, Syria and Greece.

After the siege and burning of Smyrna in 1922 Dr. Birge did relief work among both Greek and Turkish soldiers and for a time was an unofficial member of the International Red Cross for the exchange of prisoners.

Edward Eden, Chairman, and Mrs. Chester Merrill and Mrs. Henry T. Patch. Dr. Albert I. Gordon gave the invocation.

Special awards were presented to two members of the Chapter. A 20-year pin to Mrs. Henry T. Patch, Volunteer Fund Secretary, and a certificate of merit to Mrs. P. Edward Eden for distinguished work in completing the chapter's Disaster Manual.

Miss Ethel R. Weeks, Former Newton Teacher, Passes Away

Miss Ethel R. Weeks died at the Knox County General Hospital Tuesday, October 12th, following a six weeks illness.

A native of Rockland, Miss Weeks was the daughter of the late Charles E. Weeks and Lilla F. Weeks. She received her education in the Rockland schools and was graduated from Rockland High School in the class of 1902.

She chose the teaching profession as her career and prepared for it at Miss Symonds School in Boston.

Returning to Rockland, she opened a kindergarten which she operated until she accepted a position as a primary teacher in the Barre, Mass., schools. Later, she went to Newton, where she taught in the Newton schools for over 40 years. On retiring last year, she was tendered a testimonial by the Underwood School P.T.A. and her former pupils, where she was honored for her loyalty and devotion to her work, and the inspiration and guidance to her pupils.

She made her home at 22 Whittemore road, Newton, for many years with Miss Mabel K. Chase, a teacher in the Hyde School, Newton Highlands.

An ardent admirer of Maine, and especially Rockland, she spent many happy summers at her residence at Lucia Beach, Owls Head, with her host of friends. She is survived by a brother, J. Owen Weeks of Melrose, Mass.

MERRILL—Marjorie C. Merrill, of 121 Kirkland road, Newtonville, died Saturday at her home.

Mrs. Merrill was born in Concord, N. H. She was a graduate of Vassar College and a member of the Women's City Club of Boston.

She is survived by her husband, Henry W. Merrill, two sons, Henry W. Jr., of Greensboro, Vermont, and Daniel C., of Newtonville, and three grandchildren.

BROSNAHAN—Peta A. Brosnahan, 57, died Sunday at the Veterans Hospital, West Roxbury, after a long illness. His home was at 388 Parker street, Newton Centre.

Born in Newton, he was the son of William E. and Annie B. (Finney) Brosnahan. He served in World War I.

He leaves one son, William E., and a daughter, Mrs. Claire LaCourse, both of Charlestown; two sisters, Sister Marie Clare of the Sisters of Charity of St. Joseph's Convent, Jersey City, N. J., and Miss Alice P. Brosnahan, supervisor of the N. E. Tel. Tel. office, Newtonville; three brothers, Robert E. of Newtonville, Newton Police department; Neal A. of West Newton, and William E. of Weston, and one grandchild.

A solemn requiem mass was celebrated at St. Gabriel's Church in Brighton, Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. Burial was in Holyhood Cemetery, Brookline.

MITCHELL—Mrs. Annie M. (Fennell) Mitchell, 75, formerly of Cherry street, Waltham, widow of Thomas J. Mitchell, died early Tuesday morning after an illness of several weeks.

Born in Newton, a daughter of Thomas and Mary A. (Hunt) Fennell, she had been a Waltham resident for 50 years.

She is survived by two nieces, Alice M., Leas of West Newton and Dorothy Flag of New Sharon, Maine; two nephews, Daniel J. McLaughlin of West Newton, and Edmund P. McLaughlin of Pleasantville, N. Y., and two cousins, the Misses Emily and Alice Cushing of Newton Upper Falls.

Funeral services were conducted this morning (Thursday) from the Walsh Funeral Home, 20 High street, Waltham, with a requiem high mass at St. Charles Church, Waltham, at 9 o'clock.

Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

JOWETT—In Newtonville, Tuesday, Clara A. Jowett, formerly of Harrington street, Newtonville, mother of Mrs. Alfred Haigh, Mrs. Henry Wood, Mrs. Gordon S. Kenison, Mrs. Lloyd F. Shepherd and Mrs. Earl Atkinson.

Services will be held at the Eaton Funeral Home, 1351 Highland avenue, Needham, this Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Visiting hours at the funeral home Thursday are from 2 to 4 p.m.

Mrs. Jowett is also survived by twenty grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

She was a member of the Newtonville Methodist Church.

Interment will be in Mt. Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge.

Punishable By Fine Burning of Leaves in Streets a Violation of City Ordinance Here

Lt. L. N. Clark, head of the fire prevention bureau of the Newton Fire Department warned in a statement issued this week that, "the burning of leaves or any other materials in the streets of Newton is a violation of the City Ordinance and is punishable by a fine of $20. This ordinance was passed in 1939. The police department has been requested to prosecute all violations."

This warning has been brought about by several instances of the burning of leaves in various streets of the city thereby seriously affecting the vision of automobile drivers and making a potential traffic hazard. Continuing, Lt. Clark stated:

"Leaves may be burned in an incinerator on your own property if it is located a safe distance from other buildings and it is on cleared land. It must be attended by some responsible person as long as the fire continues to burn. A permit is not required for the use of an incinerator.

"A permit is required by law for all burning in the open where an incinerator or a fireplace is not used to burn in. The permits can be obtained at Newton Fire Headquarters, 1164 Centre street, Newton Centre. A permit does not allow anyone to burn in the street at any time, the burning must be done on your own property and properly attended while the fire is burning and must be extinguished when the burning is finished.

"The enforcement of this City Ordinance has been brought about for several reasons, mainly: the smoke has obstructed the vision on the streets and caused several auto accidents; the fires ruin the surfaces of the streets; people and children have received severe burns by walking into the hot ashes; burning leaves have been blown on to other people's property and caused fires and autos have been set on fire.

"Your compliance with this City Ordinance will help to make living in Newton safer and more pleasant for everyone."

three doctors pass on a disability retirement. At present under the city's retirement system, an employee retiring because of disability is examined only by the city physician. Should, however, the city physician rule against the retirement, the employee is brought before a panel of three doctors but under the new bill only the panel's approval would be required.

The present retirement system was put into effect in 1927 and revised in 1947. It was intended that the system should keep pace with the benefits offered by the State but the State Retirement System has been amended several times since while the local system has not been revised since 1947.

Donald L. Whittemore, Jr., of 16 Howland road, West Newton was elected to membership in the Boston Life Underwriters Association at a meeting of the Board of Directors, October 10.

Chief Cites Dangers to Children

Chief Philip Purcell asked parents and automobilists this week to co-operate with him and the Massachusetts Safety Council in avoiding accidents to children who may be "hiding" at the edge of the highways.

"This is the time of year when little tots and even young children think it fun to play in the piles of leaves that have been raked up along the gutters, in back alleys, and even near driveways in home yards," said Chief Purcell. "This hiding practice by children also includes boxes, water pipes and shallow ditches being used in roadway construction."

"Car drivers should alert themselves to this kind of seasonal hazard and refrain from driving too close to leaf piles and certainly never through them. Someone's precious child may be hiding there, glimpsed from view, or jump out just as the car approaches, with insufficient time to dash to safety and out of the path of the oncoming car. Give them all wide clearance and avoid possible tragedy."

Final Arrangements Made for Eliot Church Two Day Auction

The last general meeting of the committee chairman for the two-day auction was held in the chapel of the Eliot Church of Newton, Tuesday evening. The auction is scheduled for next Thursday and Friday, at the chapel. Plans were completed and final arrangements made.

In addition to the auction itself, there will be separate sales of goods in certain categories: viz., aprons, costume jewelry, books, white elephants, food, candy and nuts. A snack bar will be in operation from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. both days, and a cafeteria supper will be served Thursday, between the afternoon and the evening sessions. A special event will be an old-fashioned square dance Friday evening. A great deal of effort has been spent to assure the success of this enterprise. Work began as early as last March and has been steadily carried on since then. At present most of the activity centers in the transportation committee, which is collecting merchandise following a canvass of the entire membership of the church. Altogether over 130 persons have been engaged on the project, the largest group being the telephone committee of 60.

"Heart-breaking accidents of this kind happen every fall," Chief Purcell explained. "We can eliminate them in the future, if parents will also co-operate, not only by warning their children not to play in leaf piles but by making sure that they don't—except when those piles are located completely away from any possible driving hazard. As adults we must think for these children and as parents we must teach them to avoid getting into situations and places which might result in injury to themselves or others."

Hill Park area—including those living in the area bounded by Wessell Road, Dedham Street, and the West Roxbury line—will be screened at the new Oak Hill Memorial School from November 6 to November 10. Other Oak Hill residents—including those living south of the Worcester Turnpike—Winchester Street boundary—will be screened at the new Oak Hill fire station from November 13 to November 17.

Volunteers are now being recruited to conduct a house-to-house canvass. The purpose of the canvass is to describe the screening procedure, answer questions about the program and arrange for appointments. Anyone over the age of 17 who is not now under treatment for heart disease is eligible for the examination.

The screening examination takes about ten minutes. Each person screened is asked to check "yes" or "no" to a few medical questions. His blood pressure is recorded by a public health nurse. His height and weight are taken by a volunteer. His heart sounds are checked by a public health physician.

The purpose of the screening is to find conditions that may indicate early heart disease or conditions which, if neglected, may lead to heart disease. These individuals will be urged to see their own physicians for advice or thorough examinations, as needed.

The staff at the screening center will include the following: two physicians and a public health nurse from the Heart Disease Program; a public health nurse from the Newton Health Department and Newton District Nursing Association; and volunteer nurses, nurses' aides, gray ladies, and typists from the Newton Chapter of American Red Cross.

Medical guidance in setting up the screening procedure, as well as other aspects of the Newton Heart Demonstration Program, has been provided by the Cardiac Program Committee, a group of physicians from the staff of Newton-Wellesley Hospital. The Newton Community Council is developing community participation in the program.

Do YOU want to pay up to twice as much for your Compulsory Automobile Insurance?

YOU will be forced to unless you vote and vote no on Question #5

Do you want to be charged higher insurance rates to pay for accidents caused by careless drivers from Boston, Chelsea, and Revere?

In those communities, car-owners pay higher rates than we do for compulsory automobile insurance, because they cause more accidents—both on their own streets and when away from home.

In our community, we've earned a low rate. We've earned it by driving carefully and causing fewer accidents.

It's unfair to ask people in our community to pay for accidents caused by drivers in other communities, like Boston, Chelsea and Revere. We've earned our low rate—keep it low by voting NO on Question #5 (the flat-rate scheme) Election Day.

These are but a few of the members of your community who join your Chamber of Commerce in urging you to vote NO on Question No. 5

Warning Lights Essential

In recent issues, The Graphic has attempted to alert the people of Newton to the hazards which exist in the home and on the streets—those which make for potential accident causes. It has done so, with the cooperation of city officials, because it believes that the best preventative of accident causes is alertness.

Particularly is this true, not only in the home, but on the highways of the city as well. Owners of private automobiles and other vehicles take certain precautions to prevent accidents, not only with their own vehicles but with those of others.

Recently it has been brought to our attention that a rather serious accident occurred in Newton which involved a parked city truck during the late hours of night. We do not know all the facts. We are not attempting to judge the cause. But there appears to be a question whether or not this city truck, parked crossway on part of the street, was equipped with lights or flares with which to warn motorists of its presence.

If it was not equipped with warning lights, then it would seem reasonable to ask that city officials, with trucks and other vehicles under their supervision, insist, and make sure, that all such city owned vehicles are at all times supplied with proper warning lights should the need for the use of them arise.

To the Last Dime

If this country is to avoid a potentially disastrous inflation, our huge rearmament program must be financed, as nearly as possible, on a pay-as-we-go basis.

That, in turn, involves two things. First, there must be high taxes, and we are getting a taste of that now with the income tax increases that began October 1. Second, there must be drastic cuts in all government spending which is unrelated to defense. Nothing at all has been done in that direction. Indeed, some of the top men in government seem determined to increase it. Their idea is to continue with spending as usual, and to simply pile the emergency military spending on top of it.

The American people will pay all the taxes that national security demands, painful as it will be. But the American people will not long consent to being cheated by a policy which permits waste and unnecessary spending in every conceivable direction. Government men tell us that we must pull in our belts and prepare for sacrifices. Let the government men follow their own advice in their own bailiwick.

The fact is that runaway inflation could in itself destroy any hope for national security. And the best friend inflation has is reckless spending by the government, with the ever-increasing deficits that result. We could so weaken ourselves within that we would lack the strength to deal with the dangers from without.

Federal spending as usual must end.

Let's Use Our Heads

Every once in a while a good sign appears in this disordered and unpredictable world. One such sign has been the cessation of the scare buying and hoarding that followed on the outbreak of the Korean war.

At that time, a comparatively small number of consumers thronged into stores and bought up just about everything in sight. The result was temporary shortages of certain items. Now, for the most part, this dislocation in the normal supply-demand situation has been corrected.

It is a tribute to the good sense of the American people—to say nothing of patriotic considerations—that only a few followed the disgraceful practice of hoarding. And it is also a tribute to the character of American business that, in every way possible, it discouraged scare-buying and pointed out how foolish, dangerous and unnecessary it is. Business, in other words, resisted to the best of its ability the opportunity to make a fast profit, on behalf of the long-term interests of the country itself.

Let consumers remember that—whether or not new world crises appear.

FOUR PORK CHOPS

Still Serve Four

The pork chop is no bigger . . . the pound no heavier than it was ten years ago. Yet the cost — per chop or per pound — has more than doubled.

your telephone service is a welcome exception.

Your telephone reaches more people . . . your service is faster and better . . . yet, in actual cost, your telephone takes a much smaller percentage of your household budget than it did ten years ago. That's because living costs have gone up much more than telephone costs.

The first meeting this term of the Pomroy House Parent Teachers Association was held October 18. The Pomroy House Nursery School at Newton Corner is a Red Feather service of the Community Chest where preschool age children in Newton may have the advantage of nursery school at little cost.

The school nurse, Miss Berenice Joyal, spoke about her duties of checking the health of the children.

Officers were elected by the parents on a husband and wife officer and co-officer basis. The officers for this term are: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Cavanaugh, president and co-president; Mr. and Mrs. William Mulen, secretary and co-secretary; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fitzerald, treasurer and co-treasurer; Mr. and Mrs. John Quinn, program chairman and co-chairman; and Mr. Arthur J. Cavanaugh, publicity chairman.

The November meeting will have a work shop night at which the mothers and fathers will wear old clothes and participate in the same activities that the children enjoy during the day.

Newton League of Women Voters

Red Feather—

The Women's Mercantile Division reported five districts that have exceeded 100 per cent of their goals, these being Waban, Auburndale, Newton Highlands, Newton Centre, and West Newton. Employees of the Chest Agencies have subscribed 96 per cent of their goal, and Hospital employees, 94 per cent.

In the Municipal Division, the Welfare Department is high with 118 per cent, followed by Police with 103 per cent, and Executive with 100 per cent. Departments over 90 per cent were Treasurers, 98 per cent; Street, 96 per cent; Building, 94 per cent; and Health, 92 per cent.

Newton Highlands, in the Advance Gifts Division, with a total well ahead of last year, had reached 92 per cent of its challenging goal, and four others—Auburndale, Newtonville, Chestnut Hill, and Waban, are all over 60 per cent.

At the "Kick-Off" Dinner, Winslow H. Adams, Newton Campaign Chairman, presided, Rev. Chauncey E. Blossom, pastor of the Auburndale Congregational Church, gave the invocation, and Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood read his proclamation. Forrester A. Clark, General Chairman of the Red Feather Campaign for Metropolitan Boston, explained why the needs this year are $7,000,000. In part, Mr. Clark said: "We have set our goal this year on a realistic basis, accepting the amount that the Budget Committee has told us our agencies need to carry on their programs effectively."

Edward C. Michaud, President of the Newton Community Chest, extended greetings, and Robert R. Walker, Chairman of the Residential Division, issued a challenge to his workers. The principal speaker of the evening was Dr. Abram L. Sachar, President of Brandeis University. Dr. Sachar was the first President of the Community Chest of Champaign, Illinois, which Chest was organized in 1932, the same year as the Newton Community Chest. He has had wide experience in Chest and health and social welfare work, and was able to give his audience first-hand information based on his experience. Dr. Sachar said, in part: "We must keep open our channels of sensitivity and not let the highly emotional effect of armed combat deaden us to the need of charitable giving. We must not forget the people. It is not money that we are after for money's sake alone, but for what money will buy in services for the people."

"At this moment," said Mrs. Hovgaard, "final figures are not available. But a preliminary estimate indicates that around 11,000 boys and girls will participate in the 240 separate parties planned by more than 1400 committee members. And I'm glad to say that all these volunteer workers have done such a wonderful job that plans for every party are complete, except for ironing out a few last-minute details. I'm not permitted to reveal the sub-rosa stunts and surprises that are in store for the children. But I will say I have every reason to believe that this year's parties will be the best and jolliest ever held and that they will prove to be a tribute to the hard work and cooperation of the innumerable men and women who have so generously given their time and energy for the pleasure of our thousands of school children. We are all grateful, also, to Howard Whitmore, Jr., who has for the third time served as General Chairman of the Newton Halloween Committee, and whose inspiring leadership has been such a large factor in stimulating our entire organization to unparalleled effort."

Reports from Building Chairmen have kept Mrs. Hovgaard fully advised of progress made in planning their parties; and the following are a few of those most recently received:

Herbert Callahan, Building chairman of the Bowen School, Thompsonville, states that 140 children, from kindergarten age through 6th grade, will enjoy clowns, magicians, games with prizes, movies, acrobatic dances and other gay events. The committee in charge includes Mrs. Louise Signori, Mrs. Joseph DiCarlo, Mrs. Domenic Tataro, Mrs. Philip Corsi; and setting up an awesome Chamber of Horrors for 5th and 6th grades are Serefin Tornabene, Anthony Oteri and Charles Arcand.

Almost 300 children of the kindergarten classes and up through the third grade, will be on hand for the well-planned parties at the Underwood School, Newton. Mrs. T. P. Krush, Building Chairman, says that "our program is now complete. But we want to surprise the children and not tell them much about it." Committee members are: Mrs. James Hayes, Mrs. Ralph McKee, Mrs. Earl Douglas, Mrs. Lawrence Perlmutter, Mrs. Vinton Butterfield, Mrs. Arthur Karol, Mrs. Margaret Preston, Mrs. Henry Rubin, Mrs. Stanley Brewster and Mrs. Sidney Marston.

The new Memorial School parties, Oak Hill Park, are headed by Edward M. McMahon, Building Chairman, and will be directed by the following: Grade 1, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shore and Mrs. Edward Ransom; Grade 2, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lasoff and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Anderson; Grade 3, Mr. and Mrs. David Palmer; Grade 4, Mrs. Joseph Mass; Grades 5 and 6, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney S. Epstein. The Chamber of Horrors committee is comprised of Charles Murphy, Robert Chabourne and C. Carroll O'Neill. Refreshments will be in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gallagher and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sundborg. Mr. Tanner will handle the movies; and Mrs. Charles Murphy will serve as Assistant Building Chairman and First Aider. The extensive program consists of costume parade with prizes, games, Chamber of Horrors and a top-notch magician.

Arthur Connolly, Building Chairman of the 7th, 8th and 9th grade parties set for the Warren Junior High, West Newton, expects more than 300 boys and girls. Feature events will be square dancing with callers, fortune telling, games and a side show that is said to be something really out-of-the-ordinary.

Notable will be the Chamber of Horrors devised for the Davis School parties, West Newton, reports R. H. Cobb and Guy King, Building Chairmen. Some members of the Horrors committee are "experienced Chamber of Horrors operators," according to Messrs. Cobb and King "and all the men are getting loads of fun planning this year's horrors." The committee includes George Wurster, Chairman, Arthur W. Senecal, L. Carlton Merrill, Herman A. Foster, Charles W. Davidson, Edward Bergonzoni, Albert E. Westwood, Everett J. Fournier, Don W. Fawcett, John B. Calderwood, Asten S. Anderson, Walter Nordstrom, Paul H. Oetinger, William R. Spillman, K. L. Raymond, Robert P. Eames, Robert D. Wilder, Norman W. Butterfield, G. Dana Sprague and George Koller.

Over 270 kindergartners through 6th graders will attend the Carr School, Newtonville, parties, states Dudley Taw, Building Chairman. The jollities will include a big entertainment in the Assembly Hall, featuring local talent, Hopalong Cassidy movies and special stunts that are not being revealed in advance. Assistants to Mr. Taw are Bud Besoudin, Archie Gath, Mac McCullough and Doug Sylvia. Room Chairmen are: Kindergarten, Mrs. Raymond Hill; Grade 1, Mrs. Bernard Rainville, Mrs. Ralph Scott; Grade 2, Mrs. Irving Crane, Mrs. James Robinson; Grade 3, Mrs. James Lord, Mrs. Helen Horan; Grade 4, Mrs. Winslow Auryansen; Grade 5, Mrs. Archie McMullen; Grades 5 and 6, Mrs. George Kent; Grade 6, Mrs. William Baker. Refreshments will be in charge of Mrs. Eleanore Dunwood.

Mrs. Sidney Wish, Building Chairman of the Cabot School gathering, at which there will be present more than 300 kindergarten tots and other elementary grades through the 6th, announces that the members of the committees at work for weeks on plans for the parties are as follows: Mrs. Leo Bernheimer, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Steele, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Rubin, Mrs. Ruth Phillips, Louis Bergart, Daniel Shapiro, Mrs. Ralph Karol, Mrs. Robert Lucas, Mrs. Lassi Vienot, Mrs. Herbert Cohen, Mrs. Arlington Bensal, Mrs. Ruth Snyder, Mrs. Samuel Goodman, Mrs. George Miller, Mrs. Martin Levitan, Mrs. Raymond Parsons, Mrs. Edward F. Marshall, Mrs. Thomas Coppinger, Mrs. Wendell Wilson, Mrs. Archie Kleinman.

The complete committee, directing the many parties for the 600 pupils of the Angier School, Waban, is, as reported by Mrs. Thomas S. Derr and Mrs. Morrill P. Mims, Building Chairmen: Kindergarten, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. C. Appel, Donald Gosch, Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Derrick, Mr. and Mrs. Corbett; 1st grade, Dr. and Mrs. James H. Currens, Dr. and Mrs. Walter E. Garrey, Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Krause, Mr. and Mrs. Carlyle D. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ficken, Mr. and Mrs. Es-

By JOE DI VECCHIO LADY LUCK

When Lady Luck withholds her smile, then nothing seems to be worthwhile. She simply has to show a frown to get a lot of people down.

But when we stop to think, we find that luck is mainly in the mind. For those who get the biggest breaks are they who have just what it takes.

Getting good food is not a matter of luck. It requires good judgment. For instance, if you want real fine sandwiches or a substantial breakfast, including eggs fried in pure butter, then Snak House Delicatessen, 346 Centre St., is the right place to go. Open from 7 A.M. to 6 P.M. Monday through Saturday. Breakfast served anytime from 7 A.M. to 10 noon. Auburndale and Oakhill bus stops right at the door.

Churches Combine To Observe Reformation Day

The Newton Methodist, Grace Episcopal and Elliot Congregational Churches will hold a Community Reformation Day Service Sunday morning at 10:45 o'clock in The Elliot Church.

This service will take the place of the usual Sunday morning services held in the individual churches.

Dr. Charles H. Buck, Jr., of The Episcopal Theological Seminary of Cambridge will be the preacher. The ministers and the combined choirs of the participating churches will take part in the service.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Newtonville Woman's Club will present a cabaret tomorrow (Friday) at 8 p.m. The program will include Marjorie Shepherd, returning by popular demand. Marion Herter Clark, the first woman radio commentator in New England, will discuss radio personalities. Mrs. Newell J. Trask will be at the piano for a rollicking song fest. The Barber Shop Quartet, well-remembered from last year, will please the men especially.

Proceeds from the affair will go toward reducing the debt on the new heating system.

Congressman Herter's Service Wins High Praise From All

Congressman Christian A. Herter's service to the people of his district and to his country has won high praise from Democrat and Republican newspapers alike, a committee of leading citizens pointed out today as they urged Herter's reelection from the 10th congressional district on Nov. 7.

Not only has Herter been selected by Colliers Magazine as the Congressman who performed the most distinguished service for his country, they reminded voters in the Herter district, but the newspapers generally have remarked on his outstanding ability in the field of foreign affairs and the high standard of public service he has maintained. In advocating that Herter be retained in Congress, his supporters stress that his understanding of international problems will be needed by our country in the two critical years ahead.

As evidenced of the caliber of service Congressman Herter has performed and the esteem in which he is widely held, they cite these estimates of his by newspapers of various political leanings and convictions: The Democratic Boston Post: "Congressman Herter is recognized as an able and liberal Republican and one of Washington's outstanding and most respected authorities on international problems."

The politically independent Boston Globe: "Christian A. Herter is regarded in Washington as the best informed Congressman on foreign affairs."

The Republican Boston Herald: "Congressman Christian A. Herter has a record of service in which the people of his district may take real pride. It is a record of outstanding achievements and exceptional service."

ELAINE REED

THE SCOUT SHOP, will be an informal and interesting aid to homemakers and those interested in the latest fashions and the newest in the Newton shops.

October is the month when the season turns to smart fall colors in women's fashion trends in dress and homemaking. The children are established in school and mother begins to think more of herself and her home.

Do some shop scouting in your own neighborhood. You'll discover you are nearer than you think to whatever your small or large needs may be for your 'fall turnover.'

Have you ever envied a hostess her attractive dinner table centerpiece? Or wished that you, too, had the knack to arrange odd table displays for your hall or living room?

A seasonable and attractive arrangement for your dining room sideboard or table is one of variously shaped and colored gourds. Gourds are adaptable to practically any kind of a bow or plate, china or silver, and their odd natural shapes make them easy and interesting to arrange. They come as low as 75c a half dozen at GLEASON'S FLOWERS, 415 Centre Street in Newton Corner.

Dish gardens are wonderful for filling in that bare spot on the front hall table or dressing up the coffee table in the living room. You can get cute informal arrangements, or delightfully formal ones at a starting price of only $1.50 at GLEASON'S.

Table displays are lasting and inexpensive as well as interesting. GLEASON'S FLOWERS has a large selection of everything for a fall table display suitable to any room in your home. If you can't dream up your own ideas for assembling after seeing their displays, you can settle for a ready-built arrangement—or GLEASON'S will be glad to show you how to go about putting together an attractive arrangement.

The busy season will soon be on us, when every minute counts in a hurried day! Don't you lose time because your watch does? If your watch can't keep track of the time for you—don't waste another minute—take it to FRED S. MAYER, whose Jewelry Shop is at the R.R. Bridge, 376 Centre Street in Newton Corner. Mr. Mayer, the successor to Mr. G. J. Brouillette, has had over forty years of experience as a jeweler, 25 of which have been spent in Roslindale Square. Dever Says Coolidge's Record Hostile to Labor and Veterans

"Neither veterans and their families nor working men and women of the Commonwealth will be fooled by the 1950 edition of perennial Republican promises," Gov. Paul A. Dever said this week.

"My opponent, Mr. Coolidge," the Governor said, "is telling the voters that they can trust him. What can the people trust him to do?"

"Let's take a look at the record of Arthur W. Coolidge in the Massachusetts State Senate. This record is taken from the official journal of the Massachusetts Legislature on roll calls.

"Coolidge voted against the Fair Employment Law to forbid discrimination in employment of the minority racial groups. I don't know why he did. Let him explain his vote, to the minority groups he now asks for support.

"Let veterans and their families consider Coolidge's record on veterans legislation: "In 1944, Coolidge voted against veterans hospitals; against paying the veterans a bonus; against allowing veterans to vote by absentee ballot; against erection of veterans' centers.

"Let working men and women consider the record of Coolidge on bills affecting their welfare.

"In 1943, Coolidge voted against paying annuities to the widows of deceased public employees; against protecting working women before and after childbirth; against increasing minimum and maximum amounts of weekly compensation to be paid to injured employees and against badly needed pay raises.

"I will say nothing now about Coolidge's votes in favor of loan sharks, against exempting veterans from payment of poll taxes; against free instruction at Mass. State College; against giving those on old age assistance hospital and medical attention.

"I offer for the consideration of all the voters, particularly the veterans and laboring men and women, a few of my accomplishments in the past 21 months.

"By the end of this year, nearly 14,000 housing units for veterans will have been completed and occupied.

"This is in contrast to the record of the Bradford-Coolidge administration during which not a single veteran's housing unit was built.

"Under my sponsorship, the following bills have been passed to aid veterans or their dependents: Civil service preference to widows and the widowed mothers of service men; increasing from $500 to $750, the amount of money the Commonwealth can pay for the higher education of children of Massachusetts veterans who were killed, or died as a result of their service; exempting men in the armed forces from paying poll taxes.

"I am sure that every laboring man and woman in the state knows my record of performance in their behalf as contrasted with the open and active hostility of Coolidge and his record shows.

"Labor will remember that we passed a law allowing hitherto disqualified workers to collect unemployment compensation during plant vacation shutdowns; that we liberalized the law to provide dependency payments to those who were only partially unemployed; we made payment of dependency allotments separate from unemployment insurance payments, so that the worker could collect his maximum insurance plus the dependency allotments."

"Coolidge is...THE FATHER OF...THE M.T.A."

The POLITICAL PARADE by JAMES G. COLBERT

REPRINT BOSTON SUNDAY POST OCT. 15, '50

Former Lieutenant Governor Arthur W. Coolidge may discover that he has a bear by the tail in the MTA issue, on which the Republican high command is banking so heavily in the present gubernatorial campaign.

URGENT PURCHASE

For while the MTA may have been the stepchild of Governor Dever's administration, Mr. Coolidge is generally considered the father of the youngster—the MTA law—by those familiar with the order of events by which the Metropolitan Transit Authority came into being.

Mr. Coolidge was the head and guiding spirit of the commission which recommended that the people of 14 Greater Boston cities and towns buy the old Boston Elevated and set themselves up in the transit business.

He drew a bright picture in his efforts to sell the public the idea that it would be letting itself in on a pretty attractive proposition by buying out the El stockholders.

Glowing Forecast

In urging the speedy adoption of the bills which his commission sponsored, Mr. Coolidge, then Lieutenant Governor, on April 28, 1947, told the joint legislative committee on transportation and metropolitan affairs that the passage of the measures would result in "the finest self-supporting rapid transit system in the world, complete with ultra-modern conveniences for riding comfort."

That statement certainly does not establish Mr. Coolidge as any outstanding prophet on the subject. It would be interesting to know whether he still believes that.

Strong Report

He didn't mince any words or pull any punches in advocating the purchase of the Elevated. His commission in its report stated: "We cannot too strongly urge those in authority or responsible for the solution of the transportation problem of the metropolitan area to set up at once a Metropolitan Transit Authority which we have recommended, that public ownership of the Boston Elevated Railway be completed now."

In the light of subsequent events, it appears that Mr. Coolidge spearheaded a successful campaign to have the people pay more than $20,000,000 for a road which, on the basis of its own statements, was worthless at the time.

Paid $85 a Share

Under the so-called MTA law, which Mr. Coolidge fathered, a price of $85 per share was paid for the Elevated and its liabilities assumed. Since 238,794 shares of stock were outstanding, this amounted to $20,297,490.

The capital gains schedule, filed by the Elevated with the federal government on Aug. 29, 1947, showed that the assets of the road amounted to $82,164,185 and that the liabilities totaled $86,590,319.

Called It Bargain

But the Coolidge commission, which supposedly had carefully studied all aspects of the proposed purchase of the Elevated, said in its report: "The ownership of the property of the company (the Elevated) would give to the people a going concern at a value which has been built up beyond the option price by the use of public money and public credit."

In other words, Mr. Coolidge's commission maintained that at a price of $85 per share, the people were getting quite a bargain.

$75 Price Refused

Furthermore, on June 10, 1947, the Elevated directors advised the then Governor Bradford, the then Lieutenant Governor Coolidge and the chairman of the few legislative committees that if the Legislature would amend the pending bill to provide for the purchase of the stock instead of the assets of the road, which would have avoided a capital gains tax, they, the directors, would recommend to the stockholders that they accept $75 per share. This suggestion was not accepted.

So, the people actually paid $10 more per share than the price suggested by the El directors and for assets which Mr. Coolidge should have known were worthless if he had made a careful and thorough study of the matter.

Solons Fought It

Democratic leaders in the Legislature, headed by the present House Speaker, Thomas P. O'Neill, Jr., and Senator Chester A. Dolan, Jr., made quite a fight to have the Elevated taken by eminent domain and let the courts decide how much the people should pay.

On the subject of eminent domain the Coolidge commission declared: "Some of these bills have provided for public acquisition by eminent domain. Acquisition by such means would make the price uncertain until after long and expensive litigation. Acquisition by eminent domain proceedings may be summarily disregarded as inimicable to the public interest."

$4,000,000 in Debt

We wonder if Mr. Coolidge still stands by that statement and if he believes that the courts would have had the people pay more than $20,000,000 for a road whose liabilities were $4,000,000 greater than its assets.

The Republican standard bearer, in firing the opening salvo of his campaign in his home town of Reading last week, lashed out at Governor Dever on the MTA, and there is no doubt but that the G.O.P. strategists intend to make the MTA their big campaign issue. But the question may well be asked by Mr. Dever whether Mr. Coolidge himself wasn't principally responsible for the first and greatest blunder committed in paying $20,297,490 for a worthless road.

As a matter of fact, over the years the Republican record on the MTA and before it, the Boston Elevated, has been nothing about which the G.O.P. leaders are likely to do much boasting.

It was a Republican Legislature a little over 30 years ago which enacted the incredible law guaranteeing the Elevated stockholders a 5 per cent per dividend on their holdings and requiring the stockholders in the cities and towns served by the road to dig down into their pockets for whatever money was needed to pay that dividend.

It was a Republican administration that bailed out the Elevated, paid out more than $20,000,000 of the people's money for a broken-down system and at the same time sought to convince the public that it was getting a gilt-edge bargain.

Whatever may be said for or against Governor Dever's handling of the MTA problem since he assumed office, he at least tried to do something. The Republicans before him did nothing except dip into the pockets of the people whenever money was needed to balance the Elevated's books.

As a matter of fairness, Mr. Dever fought for seven months to avert an increase in the MTA fare. Two months after he took office he submitted a 10-point program to the Legislature which, if adopted, would have eliminated the necessity for boosting fares and was designed to prevent future deficits of staggering proportions.

He did succeed in slashing more than $4,000,000 from the yearly fixed charges of the road and his interim trustees saved in excess of $1,000,000 in operating costs through economies they introduced.

When the Governor was unsuccessful in his attempts to wipe out the requirement in the MTA law, making it mandatory to fix a fare adequate to cover the cost of service and substituting a permissive provision, and when other phases of his suggested program were turned down, there was no alternative open to the Dever trustees except to increase fares.

Inherited Problem

But it may be said for Governor Dever that he didn't sit on his hands, that he tried to meet the MTA problem head-on and that the problem was one he inherited and not of his own making.

Ironically, former Lieutenant Governor Coolidge, who made it clear in his kickoff speech in Reading last week that he will build much of his campaign on the MTA, had none to do with creating that MTA problem than any other one person.

It remains to be seen who will be hurt and helped by the MTA issue. Once the arguments start over that question, Mr. Coolidge is likely to be called upon for some explanations.

Our Lady's Defeats Tough St. Charles, 20-0

Coach Jim Sullivan's undefeated Our Lady's High eleven, presently the class in the Catholic League Division 2 circuit, made it five straight at Allison Park last Sunday afternoon, dropping a tough St. Charles, 20-0, before a crowd of 1600.

St. Charles spent all its energy playing a strictly defensive game but did well to hold the tremendous Purple and Gold horde to only three touchdowns. Many expected the final to be figured in three digits, because of Newton's strength and the Saint's inexperience and weakness. The Wal-tham club held Sullivan's lads to only one touchdown in the first half, but finally weakened during the second to allow two tallies.

Scoring for Our Lady's was done by Bill Cronin, Don Murphy, and Roy MacLean, with Cronin converting two. The main objective of St. Charles was to stop the savage running of burly Don Murphy, who eats up yardage whenever voting the leather. He was limited to just 59 yards in 13 tries.

Outweighing their courageous opponents in every position, the Purple and Gold had no trouble moving their front wall, but were up against a seven and eight-man line throughout the day, thus making their victory more difficult.

Still looking for a way back on the win trail, the Newton High football team will play host to Medford High this Saturday at Dickinson Stadium.

The Orange has lost the last three encounters to Brockton, Watertown, and Arlington, while list in their column Belmont and Melrose.

With the services of some of the regulars promised, the Warren Huston eleven can look for their third victory of the season. The two clubs are about evenly matched with the locals having a slight edge.

Lasell Yearly Blue Feather Drive Begins

Lasell Junior College in Auburndale launched its annual Blue Feather Drive Friday evening, October 20, with an informal dance in Winslow Hall. Janet Woodward, a senior of Chatham, New Jersey, is chairman of the drive.

This drive is one of the major projects undertaken each year by the Lasell Campus and Community Association. It is an overall drive for a campus community chest, and includes all the customary yearly campaigns in one large undertaking. The goal is one thousand dollars, which is dispersed proportionately by a committee of faculty and students to several agencies, including the Community Fund, Red Cross, Salvation Army, and the World Student Service Fund.

Dr. Glenn Blough, Senior Specialist in Elementary Science with the U. S. Office of Education, Washington, will be the principal speaker at the Cabot-Claffin P.T.A. meeting at the Cabot Auditorium tonight (Thursday) at 8 p.m.

He met informally this morning with the principals, supervisors, and representatives of the Elementary Science Committee of the city. This afternoon at the Williams School, he spoke to all Newton elementary school teachers.

Dr. Blough is the author of the recent best seller, Teaching Science in the Elementary School. He has written numerous books, articles, and pamphlets and is well-known in his field.

Sunday evening guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Ellis, 18 Hovey street, were Mr. J. S. They were friends of their late son, Raymond, who was killed accidentally in England during World War II.

Newton High Drops Third 25-7 to Strong Arlington

Once-beaten Arlington High, champions of Class A last year, spilled Newton High for its third defeat of the season last Saturday afternoon, 25-7, at Warren Pierce Stadium before 4000 spectators, while finding the Orange defense an easy mark in both passing and running.

Optimism ran high early in the fray when halfback John Tripp sliced through the heavy Arlington line to go 70 yards for the first and only Newton touchdown, giving them a 7-6 edge after the conversion in the initial period. This lead was quickly dissolved in the second quarter as the Spy Ponders countered when quarterback Bill Kenally passed to Paul Salisbury for a 37-yard gain, and in four plays they pushed the oval over to lead the rest of the way.

Another, and probably the most outstanding highspot in the game, was the sparkling performance turned in by fullback Dan Coffey. Playing almost the entire game, Coffey excelled as a fine defensive back, and at one point in the last period the rugged back intercepted a pass on the Newton 12 and raced to the Arlington 25, where he was brought down from behind.

While the Spy Ponders' passing attack was nothing one would call outstanding, they did manage to click against an inadequate Orange defense, and on two occasions, resulting in touchdowns. They first tallied late in the first period, going 40 yards. Don O'Brien ran a punt back to the Newton 30 from the 40, and following an offside penalty, Arlington covered the distance in 10 plays, O'Brien slicing into the end zone for the T.D.

Newton fans were then treated to a fast exhibition of what the Hustonmen are capable of in the pinch. Following the kickoff with the ball on their own 30, Tripp took a handoff from Dick Fitzpatrick and cut through an opening in the Arlington line, gunning up the middle for 70 yards. John Dutton converted to give Newton a 7-6 lead.

But the strong Arlington eleven quickly dispelled any thoughts of an upset, by coming back into contention with a vengeance. Taking the kickoff, they reeled off two first downs. A pass from Kenally to Salisbury on the Newton 15, running to the 10 before being stopped, set up the touchdown. Three line rushes netted gains of nine yards, and on the fourth down the Spy Ponders scored their six-pointer when the ball was fumbled, but recovered in the end zone by Arlington.

After leaving the field at the half, with a 12-7 lead, the locals came back to tally another brace, aided in their efforts by a Newton fumble. Second string quarterback John Higgins bobbled a handoff which was recovered by Arlington, and converted into their third touchdown, of the afternoon. Again the team of Kenally and Salisbury clicked under the Newton defenses. Their fourth T. D. came after a march from their own 30 and racking the last six-pointer in just six plays for the 25-7 victory.

Coolidge Says Dever Has Kept True Facts From the Citizens

Charging that Gov. Dever has set up an Iron Curtain in Massachusetts between the administration government and the citizens, Arthur W. Coolidge, Republican candidate for governor, declared this week that "it is as hard in Massachusetts today to find out the true facts of government as it is in Russia."

Coolidge declared that Dever has been "running the State on the installment plan, with the future of the citizens as security on the notes, and that if Massachusetts had to liquidate today it would be bankrupt."

He likened the "padded pay-roll and jobs-for-political-favorites" situation in Massachusetts as comparable to "the rabbit warrens of Washington bureaucracy, where even fugitive Pinks and Reds find refuge in the cubby-holes of administration agencies."

Former Lt. Gov. Coolidge said in part:

"Since this campaign started, I have been discussing, in many parts of this State, what I have called the fakery of the Dever administration during past two years. I have dealt at some length with the phony, broken promises of the present incumbent of the governor's office, as typified by the promise that there would not be an increase in M.T.A. fares if he were elected; that the cost of living would be kept down if only he were elected; his face claims of credit for highway construction, for housing, for improved educational facilities, for hospital expansion.

"The same blundering, the same bureaucracy, the same squandering have prevailed here as at the national level, until the people's dollar has sunk to a value of 61 cents—before taxes. What it is actually worth after taxes is anybody's guess, in these high-flying days of Dever squandermania.

"But, tonight, I want to tell you of another freedom we have lost in Massachusetts since Dever took over. The freedom of knowledge. The freedom of a people knowing where they and their State stand.

"Today, it is as impossible to find out what the true financial position of your State is as it is to find out true facts about Russia. Russia has its famous Iron Curtain. Everything disappears on that Commission to allow their fellow member to examine the records. He had heard allegations of padded pay rolls there, of political favorites being put on the pay roll and not even being required to report for work.

"The questions that every man and woman in Massachusetts should ask are:

"Why is the MDC so anxious to keep the Iron Curtain down until after election day?

"What do the MDC records show that the administration is afraid to have the voters know about?

"And that is only the most flagrant operation of the Iron Curtain. No man today, no state official, can tell you, with any degree of certainty, how many individuals are on the public pay rolls in Massachusetts. Estimates that have been given me run all the way from 23,000 to 30,000. Even the departments that keep the records—the Comptroller's office and the treasurer's office—are unable to produce accurate figures.

"I say to you tonight what I said at the start of this campaign that I am dedicated to cleaning up this mess, to swinging a heavy broom on the political parasites who have sapped Massachusetts of its economic vigor and its governmental freedom. You can trust Coolidge to do it."

Canvass—

vasses as far as possible on the same date," continued the speaker. "For the tenth consecutive year the churches of Newton, augmented by a National United Canvass Committee, are joining in a single coordinated movement which will impress our community with the importance of our religious institutions."

"An undertaking of this kind calls each citizen of our city to a more active participation in the work of the churches, while at the same time it helps to insure that our churches receive the financial support that they will need throughout the coming year."

Mr. Whitten further said, "It is a splendid example to our young people to see the in a concerted effort of this wholesome kind. It should help to dispel any question they may have as to the common and ultimate purpose of all churches to help; men and women of all ages, all colors, all creeds to lead a more satisfying and abundant life for themselves and for others."

"While each church has its own individual program and method for conducting the canvass, nevertheless the working together brings an intimate exchange of ideas, methods and results which over the years will result in a general improvement both in amounts raised and also in the realization on the part of thousands that they should give more than they do to the church."

"In this tenth year of the canvass I would like to emphasize the slogan which we are using and which is being used all over the United States by thousands of other churches canvassing at the same time: 'This year we are pledging more so our church can do more.' I wish to urge everyone, regardless of their church affiliation to give more this year, so that our church can do more. Never was there a time when the world, our country and our community has needed the stabilizing work of the church. Let us give more so that the impact for right living and the right conduct of affairs will be greatly increased."

The tenth annual United Church Canvass in Newton is headed by a committee of the Council of Churches of which William A. Jackson of 7 Walden street, Newtonville is chairman. The city-wide plans of the committee call for a Family Thanksgiving service in each church on November 19 and a follow-up canvass on November 26. Twenty-four churches in the city and two synagogues are either participating in this effort or "endorsing" the plan but participating in a canvass at another date. The list of these churches follows:

Churches participating in the canvass are: Auburndale Congregational Church; Centenary Methodist Church, Auburndale; Perrin Memorial Church, Newton Lower Falls; Messiah Episcopal Church, Auburndale and West Newton; Central Congregational Church, Newtonville; Eliot Congregational Church, Newton; First Baptist Church, Newton Centre; First Church Congregational, Newton Centre; First Methodist Church, Newton Upper Falls; Grace Church Episcopal, Newton; Lincoln Park Baptist Church, Newton; Newton Centre Methodist Church; Newton Highlands Congregational Church; Newton Methodist Church; Newtonville Methodist Church; North Congregational Church, Nonantum; Second Congregational Church, West Newton; Trinity Episcopal Church, Newton Centre; Union Church of Waban; Myrtle Baptist Church, West Newton; Second Baptist Church, Newton Upper Falls.

A United Nations flag, made by the girls of the 4-H Sewing Club at the Pomroy House, was presented to the city of Newton through Mayor Theodore H. Lockwood at City Hall Tuesday afternoon.

Geraldine Delicata, who acted as spokesman for the girls, in presenting the flag said:

"On this fifth birthday of the United Nations, we girls from the 4-H Sewing Club at the Pomroy House, present to you this flag which we have made. We would like you to accept this symbol of Democratic life. The United Nations are the hope of the world and we look for peace through all nations working together for the good of mankind."

I thank you on behalf of the City of Newton personally, and commend you girls from the 4-H Sewing Club at the Pomroy House for your workmanship, zeal and thoughtfulness in making this flag because of its international meaning."

"The world is passing through a time of anxiety and crises in which the United Nations stands out as the only workable international instrument of the will to permanent peace."

"This flag will be placed in the Hall of Flags at Newton City Hall as a permanent reminder to us of Newton of the importance of the United Nations."

Newton "Army Drive" at Two-thirds of Quota

Kenneth E. Prior, General Chairman of Newton's Salvation Army drive for funds, reports that local contributions have slowly inched upwards to about two-thirds of Newton's $23,000 quota.

"We've had an encouraging spurt in gifts during the past week," said Mr. Prior, "and I'm hoping contributions will continue at this faster pace. If they do, I'm sure we'll hit the top before the drive ends. And we should, if Newton people generally could know how vitally important the Salvation Army is to the mere existence of many families, some of whom live right here in our city. These unfortunate neighbors of ours are helped directly and quickly through our own volunteer Service Fund Committee, which has at its disposal a generous portion of every dollar we raise. I'd like to point out, too, that wherever 'Army' representatives step in with their welcome aid, they bring with them not only material assistance, but the sincerity, understanding and warm friendliness that give despairing people a much-needed spiritual lift. In spite of our having reached only two-thirds of our quota, I'm still confident our drive here will be a complete success. Again I urge any friend of the Salvation Army, who has not yet been visited by a volunteer worker, to send in a gift, no matter how small, to the fund headquarters at Newton Corner."

During Northwestern University's sororities and fraternities rush week, the following from Newton were pledged as follows: Marilyn Greene, 15 Angier circle, Auburndale, to Alpha Omicron Pi; John W. Klesterman, of 63 Kingswood road, Auburndale, to Alpha Tau Omega; Julie Ann Neil, of 30 Hammond Pond parkway, Chestnut Hill, to Gamma Phi Beta, and Elizabeth A. Lamb of 292 Prince street, West Newton, to Alpha Gamma Delta.

Two-Piano Recital To Be Presented At Wellesley

The Duo-Pianists, Pierre Luboshutz and his wife, who is known professionally as Genia Nemenoff, will give the second concert of the 1950-1951 Wellesley Concert Series. They will play Wednesday evening, November 15, at 8 o'clock in Alumnae Hall, Wellesley College.

The two-piano team is always an entertaining and amusing variation of the instrumental concert. Very often it becomes a tour de force or a technical and mechanical trick. However, there are two-piano teams that by their taste, artistic rapport and subtle blending of style make the concert a truly musical occasion. It is interesting to note how often a superior combination of two pianists is composed of husband and wife. In the last generation it was Josef and Rosina Lhevinne.

In our day it is undoubtedly Luboshutz and Nemenoff who have the gift of lifting the two-piano recital above the level of musical novelty into one of artistic and musical delight. Dr. Koussevitsky says of them that their work is "perfection in piano playing," and audiences and record buyers everywhere acknowledge them as leaders in their field. They will give a varied program which includes the famous D Major Sonata of Mozart and Variations by Brahms on a theme of Haydn.

to enter the Army. He served five years in the Infantry. He was awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in action while attached to the 1st Marine Division at Guadalcanal in 1942.
